EIGHT DIE IN ST. LOUIS PLANE CRASH

FRANCE LINES UP 7 OTHERS IN PACT

Russia, Italy Approve
Neutrality, 'With
Reservations'

PARIS. (AP)—France today lined up seven European nations—including Great Britain, Germany, Russia and Italy—behind her proposal for a non-intervention policy in Spain's civil war in an effort to insure the continued peace of the continent.

The other nations approving "in principle" a hands-off policy in Spain's fratricidal conflict were Belgium, The Netherlands and Czechoslovakia.

Two Attach Reservations
Both the Soviets and Italy attached reservations to their complete accord.

Sources close to the government said the French foreign office, agitated for days over the possibility of a general European conflagration growing out of Spain's bloody civil war, would try immediately for a practical application of the neutrality policy.

Diplomatic sources said new notes would be dispatched to interested powers proposing the prohibition of shipments of arms, munitions, airplanes, warships or any other war materials to Spain proper or to Spanish Morocco, the seat of the revolutionary movement.

Russian Conditions
Russia imposed two conditions in announcing her limited acceptance of the neutrality proposal. They were:

1. Portugal must be included in the agreement.
2. "Certain states" must halt immediately "all assistance given to the rebels."

The second Soviet limitation was interpreted in French official circles as a flat charge against Germany and Italy.

(Italy earlier had been suspected by French authorities of aiding the Spanish Fascists in return for what was believed might be rebel concessions to give Italy the use of a Spanish port in the Balearic Islands.)

Italy's Four Points
The four points of Italy's adherence are:

1. Italy adheres in principle to the theory of non-intervention in Spain.
2. Italy asks whether moral solidarity with one of the parties in the conflict does not constitute a "dangerous form of intervention."

The government asks whether a place of non-intervention binds only signatory governments or also their private industries.

4. It also asks whether France has any measures in view for guaranteeing the neutrality pledge.

VICTORVILLE IS FLOODED
VICTORVILLE. (AP)—A cloud-burst on the desert sent a wall of water five feet high roaring down the main street of Victorville during the night, damaging more than a dozen stores, garages and a theater. The water spread to a depth of three to four feet in sections of the business district.

The storm was one of scores reported on the desert and in the mountains during the day. There were heavy thunderstorms in Lake Arrowhead and the San Jacinto resorts districts.

Holland's Queen May Quit
LONDON. (AP)—Democratic, thrifty Queen Wilhelmina of The Netherlands may end 38 years of ruling her country next year.

The end of her reign was predicted by the London Daily Herald which said it "probably" will come after the projected marriage of her buxom daughter, Princess Juliana, 27, to Prince Charles of Sweden.

The London newspaper declared the queen "had decided to abdicate" and at the same time forecast announcement of the engagement of Juliana and Charles.

4000 Rebels Are Landed in Spain For New Assault

(By the Associated Press)

Fall of the rebel city of Cadiz, Spain, before a bitter loyalist attack, was reported today in Madrid as astounding disclosures were made of pre-revolution plans for the uprising in Spain's official history.

Puzzled by the strength of rebel positions in the Guadarrama mountains, Leftist government functionaries said they had learned of indications that Jose Gil Robles, former minister of war, was planning an attack on the capital city as early as last fall.

They said that bomb-proof gun emplacements had been started during army maneuvers with a view to using them to overthrow the present liberal government.

2000 Rebels Give Up
Meanwhile Spain's loyalist troops smashed at northern rebel strongholds even as the generalissimo of the Spanish insurrection ran a blockade of government warships to land 4000 Moroccan reinforcements on the peninsula for the march on Madrid.

Surrender of 2000 rebels on the Aragon front, Barcelona advisers said, had opened the road for a further loyal advance on Zaragoza.

Implementing its war on the insurrectionists, the Madrid liberal regime announced a drive from the air "without mercy" with as many as 300 airplanes to wipe out Fascist forces throughout Spain.

Plan War in Air
The Fascists, too, were preparing themselves for a war in the air by notifying salesmen for fighting machines they were in the market for good planes.

In a five-hour battle in the Straits of Gibraltar Gen. Francisco Franco, the motive power of the revolution, succeeded in demolishing reinforcements to the Peninsula from Spanish Morocco with the aid of an airplane convoy.

The insurgents insisted they had sunk a government gunboat and damaged a government submarine.

36 Miles from Goal
Poised only 36 miles from the capital to consolidate positions before continuation of the thrust southward, the Fascist forces were described by the government as having been halted and subject to a "final, crushing blow" by Loyalists.

But reports from the front indicated a slow, if painful, advance by the rebels. Feverishly the government poured reinforcements into the Guadarrama mountain gateways in expectation of a three-way assault to halt the Fascist drive.

The Fascists were in sight of the capital from their vantage point on the heights of mountain territory they captured in hand-to-hand encounter.

U. S. WARNS SPAIN ON DAMAGE TO PROPERTY
WASHINGTON. (AP)—The United States today called upon the Spanish government to provide adequate protection for American property in the revolutionary area, warning that it would expect adequate indemnification for any damage suffered.

On instructions from the state department, Eric C. Wendelin, charge d'affaires of the American embassy in Madrid, told Spanish foreign office officials the United States could not admit that the property of its nationals in Spain could be interfered with with impunity.

Thus far the only interference with American property reported from Spain has been at Barcelona where elements aligned with the government have seized control of the plants of the Ford Motor Company and the General Motors Corporation.

has been cleared, the Herald asserted, by a proposed amendment to the civil constitution. This new law would reduce the queen's civil income by approximately $135,000 annually in favor of any prince consort.

The newspaper added the prediction Juliana will succeed to the throne, taking Charles as her consort.

Any reports of that nature are "absolutely unfounded," official Amsterdam sources said. Added to that was a statement by the prince himself flatly denying he was betrothed to the princess.

DRIVER GIVES LIFE TO AID OTHERS

S. A. Man Prevents Death
For Four as His Truck

DRIVE CAREFULLY—
DON'T KILL

A truck driver saved the lives of at least four other persons when he swung his heavy dump truck sharply away from two approaching cars on a narrow detour.

But in doing so Jack Watson, 58, 1207 East Third street, lost his own life yesterday on the coast highway south of Huntington Beach.

One other driver was critically injured in an accident yesterday afternoon.

Carrying in his truck a heavy load of dirt to be used in a highway fill, Watson was just turning into a detour late yesterday when he saw two cars approaching in the opposite direction, one passing the other on the steep hill. To avoid a collision, he swung his truck back to the highway, skidded on loose dirt, and was pinned beneath as the truck overturned.

His chest crushed and his skull fractured, Watson was rushed to St. Joseph's hospital after fellow employees removed the truck from his body with a heavy crane. He died at 7:30 p. m.

Blas Salazar, 35, Garden Grove, was unconscious in the county hospital today, suffering from a skull fracture, after he was killed in an accident at Ninth and Lamson streets yesterday afternoon.

Salazar was driver of a car which collided with an auto driven by Mrs. James Sutherland, Anaheim. His brother, Severo Salazar, 29, was also in the hospital. (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 3)

FLOOD RAGES AT PUEBLO
PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—Cottages were toppled into the raging waters of the mountain river here today as that stream swept into Pueblo at flood crest, forcing evacuation of 200 patients from an annex of the state hospital.

Driving down from the mountains where extensive rains have turned other normally docile streams of southeastern Colorado into swollen mud-red floods, the water cut into the hospital grounds and damaged several large dormitories.

Two cottages on the hospital grounds fell into the stream as the water cut under their foundations. There was no loss of life.

The foundation, which has caused previous serious floods at Colorado Springs and Pueblo, rose rapidly early today following heavy cloudbursts between here and Colorado Springs.

Begin Extortion Suspects' Trial
NEW YORK. (AP)—Three men went on trial in general sessions today charged with extorting $1800 from Harry Bannister, former husband of Screen Actress Ann Harding. The defendants were Jerome Jacobs, 48, an attorney, Harry Heimer, 63, and Raymond Derringer, 39.

"The action taken by these men," the secretary said in his letter to Cummings, "is one which I heartily disapprove and will not permit by any member of the treasury department."

Morgenthau said the investigation had been started by Murphy on his own initiative. Boatwright was disciplined, he added, "for exceeding instructions given him by Murphy."

Declaring "there is nothing I regret more than this incident," Morgenthau said that Murphy had been 35 years in the secret service and had "an unblemished record."

Solons Stare at Shorts Laguna Ladies Ask Law Again' Legs

Abbreviated beach wear—saucy delectable confections revealing pulchritude to best advantage, and men's swimming trunks disclosing masculine perfection—held the spotlight at last night's Laguna Beach city council meeting.

And the beach togs were placed there by a delegation from the Laguna Beach Business and Professional Women's club which voiced a protest against too much brevity in dress on the streets of "the village."

Moreover, they called attention to an old ordinance which prescribes the proper dress for beach habits, and requested its provisions be enforced.

Following a lengthy discussion, in the course of which Mayor Luther F. Mallow advised against placing too severe restrictions on beach visitors, it was decided to amend the old bathing suit ordinance to harmonize with the present tempo of living.

A committee made up of Councilmen Charles H. Jester, Thomas Cummings and Randolph Bainbridge and City Attorney Milburn Harvey was appointed to make recommendations.

Mayor Mallow, in explaining his stand, said that prohibiting the wearing of abbreviated beach wear on the streets would result in an economic loss to merchants in the downtown beach area. Instead of patronizing these establishments, bathers would spend their money at the various small stands on the boardwalk, he observed.

Lovelock Captures
1500-Meter Run
By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

BERLIN.—Taking up where Jesse Owens left off, athletes in the eleventh Olympiad today launched a fresh assault on the record books with Jack Lovelock blazing the trail, with a 3:47.8 victory in the metric mile; Forrest Towns completing America's sweep in the hurdles, and Germany finally breaking the Scandinavian's javelin supremacy for the first time in Olympic history.

Towns, America's ace high jumper, captured the 110-meter high hurdle championship in world record equalling time of 14.2 seconds, after winning his semi-final heat in the smashing time of 14.1.

Great Britain's Don Finlay took second, and Fritz Pollard Jr., Chicago negro, placed third, although both were timed in 14.4, equalling the Olympic standard set four years ago at Los Angeles by the late George Saling of Iowa City.

Cunningham, Second
Kansas' Glenn Cunningham finished six-tenths of a second behind Lovelock in the 1500-meter race, and the next three runners joined that pair in lowering the Olympic mark.

Before an overflow jam of 105,000 spectators, including Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, who arrived just as the 12-man field toed the marks, Lovelock lapped one second off Bill Bonthron's listed world record of 3:48.8.

Cunningham, who ran a fine race but couldn't match the celebrated New Zealanders' kick, clipped four-tenths of a second from it in 3:48.4.

Five Shatter Record
They shattered the Olympic mark of 3:51.2 as did Luigi Beccali of Italy, who set it four years ago when he won the title at Los Angeles, Archie San Romani of Frontenac, Kan., and Phil Edwards of Canada.

Clocked in 3:49.2, Beccali lowered his former mark by two seconds as he took third place ahead of San Romani. The little Kansan was caught in 3:50 flat while Edwards, in fifth place, was timed in 3:50.4.

ALL ABOARD AIR LINER PERISH

No Reason Discovered
For Tragedy; Motors
Run After Wreck

ST. LOUIS. (AP)—All eight persons aboard a Chicago and Southern airliner were killed in an unexplained crash near Lambert-St. Louis airport last night.

The wreckage, strewn through a plowed field for 200 yards, was not found until early today almost four hours after the plane plunged to the ground.

Investigators seeking the cause had only the ship's intact instruments and the story of an eyewitness to aid them.

Carried to their deaths in the crash were:

W. S. Bartlett, Chicago.
C. B. Wright, 18, Hinsdale, Ill.
D. R. McDavitt, Chicago.
George Crasheber, Chicago.
A. R. Holt, Boston.
Vernon C. Omie, Memphis.
Carl Zier, Chicago, the pilot.
Russell Mossman, New Orleans, the co-pilot.

Ralph L. Sharp, Fairfield, O., visitor at a farm near the scene of the crash, said he saw the plane bank steeply and turn back toward the airport, from which it had taken off a few minutes before, enroute from New Orleans to Chicago.

Hear Plane Crash
He heard the plane crash a moment later after it went over a knoll and was obscured from his view.

George Bekkman, on whose farm the ship fell, said he heard the plane and noted the unusual loud roar of its motors.

Searchers found the bodies of the pilot and co-pilot, their arms locked about each other, about 50 feet from part of the wrecked cabin.

Bodies of the passengers, many of them badly mangled, were scattered about the twisted main fuselage.

PREDICTS TAX RATE IS TO BE LOWER

Figure to Be Set Aug. 17 by Council, Says Auditor Banks

Santa Ana city tax rate will drop this year, City Auditor Lloyd Banks predicted today as he prepared figures to submit to the council at its next meeting Aug. 17.

On that date the council will have the first reading of an ordinance setting the tax rate. Second reading will be Aug. 31. Because exact figures on publicity utility valuations have not been received, Banks was not able to compute the exact rate which will be required. The valuations are expected late this month.

Of a budget of $588,579, including interest and sinking funds, the city must raise approximately $360,000 in taxes, Banks said. This figure includes $24,000 which must be paid in 10 cent levies to retire delinquent 1935 act street bonds.

A drop will come in the amount to be levied for acquisition and improvement districts because payments of taxes and assessments this year improved over previous years, the auditor replied. In those districts delinquencies of one year are added to the amount to be raised the following year.

Pending arrival of official figures on utility property, which is assessed by the state board of equalization, the assumed valuation for the city of Santa Ana is $24,017,940.

making a steep bank," Sharp said. "It appeared to be turning back for the airport."

"It went over a hill, and I heard a terrible crash. The motors kept right on running."

"I looked for a fire, but there wasn't any."

The ship's clock, still running, was found shortly after dawn 100 yards from the main wreckage. Other instruments were intact and were taken over for study by the investigators.

In Perfect Condition

Carleton Putnam, president of the line, said the ship was checked at St. Louis and was in perfect condition.

H. R. Moore, flight superintendent of the Air Lines' St. Louis office, reported the plane did not answer a radio call at 10:02 p. m., seven minutes after taking off from the airport. Attempts to call the plane through Chicago failed, and a check at Springfield, Ill., revealed it had not passed over.

Moore said the wreck's location indicated Pilot Zier was on course. The pilot normally would be flying at about 1000 feet at that point, he said.

Weather Satisfactory

Eastbound planes of another airline were grounded here last night after arriving from the West, but Moore declared conditions for the northbound Chicago flight were satisfactory.

Seven of the eight victims boarded the plane, a 10-passenger Lockheed-Electra, at St. Louis, only Omie coming here on it. He was the husband of Phoebe Omie, famous woman aviator.

Last night's crash is the fourth major airplane tragedy in the United States and Mexico this year.

Other Major Crashes

Seventeen persons died in the wreck of a giant passenger plane near Goodwin, Ark., last Jan. 14, marking the largest death toll ever recorded in a plane disaster in this nation.

Other major airplane tragedies this year include:

March 26, 1936—Fourteen lost lives when chartered passenger plane fell in Mexico between Mount Popocatepetl and Mount Ixtaccihuatl.

April 7, 1936—Twelve died as result of airliner crash near Uniontown, Pa.

torney, defended Duran separately.

Others were defended by Clarence Rust, San Francisco attorney, representing the Mexican pickers' union. James L. Davis, deputy district attorney, branded Rust as Communist in arguments and disputes which disrupted the trial. Davis and District Attorney W. F. Menton prosecuted.

Ask Instructions

Those convicted were Apolinar Montoya, pointed out as the rioter who struck Hunkeler with a section of speedometer cable; Primo Rodriguez, whom Davis characterized as the ringleader of the attack; and Simon Sarinana, Adolfo Sepulveda, Aliseo Alvarez, M. Arias, Herlindo Perez, Francisco Espinosa, Domingo Escamilla, and Jose Venegas.

At 3:57 p. m. yesterday the jury returned to court to be read instructions defining rioting and declaring that all persons who helped plan a riot, even though they were not present, were guilty.

To Be Arraigned

Domingo Delgado, who alone was held to answer rioting charges after 115 others were released on a writ of habeas corpus last week, will be arraigned in superior court tomorrow on a charge of assault

Sedate, grown-up Kiwanians "went berserk" last night at the club's annual picnic, charging into the Irvine park pavilion on tri-cycles, wielding polo mallets in awkward attempts to hit a football.

The impromptu polo game was part of the entertainment arranged as a feature of the picnic by Ray C. Raddant, chairman of the committee in charge. More than 200 persons were served at an outdoor picnic meal.

Dancing in the pavilion followed the meal and entertainment program.

'Move-On' Strike Order Remanded

PIERCE, Idaho. (AP)—Gov. C. Ben Ross today remanded an order that those who could not show residence or legitimate business had to be out of Clearwater county by 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Col. C. F. Hummel, in charge of the national guardsmen, called in to handle the five-week old blood-spattered north Idaho lumber strike, issued the "move-on" order last night.

Informed of the plan, Governor Ross sent a remanding order to Colonel Hummel, and declared: "I sent the troops up there to keep law and order. I insist they shall not take sides. So long as any person stays within the law he will be permitted to live there as long as he wants to."

Lauds Sheriff For Assistance

Praising the work of the local sheriff's office in cooperating with probation officers, James E. Lewis, Los Angeles, deputy state parole officer, spoke at the monthly session of the Orange County Peace Officers' association in Fullerton last night.

Lewis outlined procedure and methods in parole work, and said sheriff's officers here gave his department "much better cooperation than the Los Angeles officers."

A dinner, served by the American Legion women's auxiliary preceded the meeting.

Fires Raging in Many Sections

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Every available CCC camp enrollee and forest ranger fought widely scattered fires in and near the Shasta National forest today. More than 50 fires, some of which were out of control, were set during electrical storms last night.

Lightning also started a dozen fires in the San Bernardino mountains yesterday. All were extinguished.

A stubborn grass fire raged on a four-mile front near Antioch early today, destroying rich grazing land and threatening houses.

with a deadly weapon. Delgado and the others were arrested after a riot at the Charles Wagner ranch near Fullerton July 6, but Superior Judge H. G. Ames ruled they had not been identified individually as taking part.

Defense Attorney Rust last night asked that judgment be pronounced immediately, but Judge Allen refused to allow waiving the usual time.

Big Transcript

Court attaches believe Rust will appeal the conviction. In such case it will be necessary to prepare at county expense copies of the transcript of testimony for each of the defendants, each of the attorneys, and for the court of appeal. J. J. White and Mrs. Birdie A. Swanick, official court reporters, made daily transcripts during the trial by alternating at taking stenographic notes and typing.

During the four days of trial, the pair recorded approximately 250,000 words, or enough to fill three ordinary novels, they estimated. The figure includes more than a day of selection of a jury. This testimony ordinarily is not transcribed for appeal.

MORE NURSES REQUIRED NEW DEAL ON TAX PAYING

"There just aren't enough nurses in Orange county, and we have had to bring in 20 nurses within the past few months," said Miss Gertrude Schroeder today in announcing that the Orange County General hospital's school of nursing would open Sept. 1.

High school graduates who made high scholastic records will be admitted in the quota of 20 students this year, she said. The school gives a three-year course, training pupils to pass state nurses' examinations.

After Jan. 1, entrance requirements will be raised, all pupils being required to complete a year of pre-nursing study at Santa Ana or Fullerton Junior college before entering the hospital class.

For those who wish to become nurses, the preliminary course will be offered this year at the junior colleges, enabling students who take it to enter the hospital training course in September, 1937.

Students Busy

Miss Grace Lansing is director of the hospital's nursing school, in operation for approximately 20 years. Staff doctors lecture for the students and Mrs. Julia Salisbury and Miss Schroeder are women instructors in the school.

"Even during the depression, our students have usually been busy," Miss Schroeder said. "The hospital employs many of our graduates, while others go outside Orange county to work."

JULY BUSINESS SHOWS GAIN

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Ernest G. Draper, acting secretary of commerce, said today that preliminary estimates showed July business activity was "15 per cent better than for July, 1935."

At a press conference, Draper also released a report which he said showed "recovery gains during the last three years."

The report contained a comparison of farm income, industrial production, factory employment, and other business factors for March, 1933, with April, 1936.

Asks $100,000 in Affections Suit

A Santa Ana marriage today was involved in a $100,000 alienation of affection suit in which Vera Walsh, said to be the wife of a New York capitalist, was named defendant. She also was named correspondent in a divorce action.

The actions were filed in Los Angeles by Mrs. Josephine Cannon. Her complaints said she married Orrin Cannon in Santa Ana Jan. 5, 1926, and that they separated July 1. The complaints charged that Mrs. Cannon's husband has been associating with Mrs. Walsh since October, 1935.

Florida to Hear Of Orange County

Florida, a state which prides itself as a producer of oranges, is going to learn all about Santa Ana and Orange county, the local chamber of commerce reported today.

That is, St. Petersburg is going to learn. St. G. Hardy and a party of four from that city, visiting here, called at the chamber office yesterday, registered as official guests of the city, and received a windshield courtesy sticker. They also took with them stickers and literature about Orange county.

SHORTEST TRIAL HELD TODAY

One of the briefest trials on record was concluded in Presiding Judge G. K. Scovel's superior court this morning in a little more than five minutes.

The action was brought by Santa Ana Mortgage and Investment company against Louise A. Eberlein and G. H. Eberlein to collect a $505.70 judgment made in favor of the Farmers and Merchants Savings Bank of Santa Ana in 1931 and never collected. The mortgage and investment company is assignee of the bank's interest.

Only question involved was whether the judgment had been paid on taxes and $25 or interest, the entire amount of $25 will be applied on taxes if paid during August.

The right to make payments on installments is also renewed and will run through until April 20, 1937. The conditions are the same as in the past, requiring payment of all accrued interest to date of payment, figured at 7 per cent from July 1, 1935, together with one-tenth of the total amount of back taxes.

Record Set

The only point in which the new law does not offer an advantage is to the person whose taxes were delinquent for the first time on June 30, 1936. Such persons must pay interest at 7 per cent from July 1, 1935. But those who had the past year and previous years delinquent have the right to redeem during August without payment of interest.

"Last August, when similar advantages were offered to taxpayers," Lambert commented, "the amount of money collected on delinquent taxes set a high mark which has been exceeded but once in the history of Orange county. That was in April of the present year."

Ray Clark Dies At Inland City

Ray Clark, former Santa Ana resident and brother of Frank Clark, 2070 Oak street, died yesterday in San Bernardino. He has also lived in Long Beach since leaving Santa Ana.

Following funeral services at 10 a. m. tomorrow in the Stevens and Bobbet chapel, San Bernardino, burial will take place at 1 p. m. in Fairhaven cemetery.

Mr. Clark is survived by his widow, Mrs. Neva Sutton Clark; a sister, Mrs. Bertha Maloney, Stanton, and his brother.

Johns-Mansville Office Opened

J. Ross McClure, formerly of Illinois, today announced opening of offices here, at which he will act as special representative of the Johns-Mansville company. The office is located in room 212, Builders exchange building.

McClure will specialize on work for the home installation division of the company in installation of insulation to help maintain even temperatures in homes and buildings. This, he said, simplifies air conditioning and makes it more effective.

LOCAL CITRUS UNITS JOIN EXCHANGE

Marketing Body Reports Net Gain of More Than 7000 Acres

Addition of one new Orange county member of the California Fruit Growers exchange, and formation of two new Orange county associations within the exchange during the year ending May 31 were announced today by the exchange.

The new Orange county shipper is the Sunny Hills Citrus association of Fullerton. Associations organized within the exchange membership are the Associated Anaheim Growers, Anaheim, and the Marcy Ranch Packing house, Tustin.

Others Join
Addition of these, with others, gave the exchange a net gain of 7400 acres during the year, it was reported yesterday at the weekly meeting of the exchange board of directors at Los Angeles.

Other new shippers in the exchange are the McKellips Mutual Citrus Growers, Mesa, Ariz., and Rialto Fruit company and Rialto Orange company, Rialto. Other associations organized within the exchange membership are the Cubertson Lemon association, Salton, Coleta Lemon association, Coleta, and Mesa Citrus Growers, Mesa, Ariz.

Prorate Reduced
Increased supplies of deciduous fruit and cooler weather were given as factors largely responsible for a slower movement of valencias. In New York alone, 10,000 cars of deciduous fruit and melons were unloaded last week. Prices on valencias were slightly lower than for the preceding week but above the level of a month ago. The interstate prorate this week was reduced to 1200 cars for all shippers.

On lemons, exchange storage was said to be 1624 cars below the storage at the same time last year and approximately 37 per cent below the average Aug. 1 storage during the past five years. Cooler weather had its effect on lemons also, resulting in a lower market and lighter sales. The f.o.b. average on exchange sales during the past week, however, was above that of the comparable week last year, and higher than during any of the comparable weeks for the past five years.

Find Cars Taken At Same Time

Auto thieves, working at different spots at almost the same hour today, stole two Santa Ana cars, abandoning one in the city and leaving the other wrecked near Anaheim.

The first report to police came at 12:33 a. m., when a car belonging to John Hill, 520 North Baker street, was stolen from his garage. It was found an hour later at Seventeenth and Sycamore streets.

H. A. Stewart, 315 East Sixteenth street, reported theft of his car from his garage at 12:56 a. m. The auto was located later by sheriff's officers, wrecked in an orange grove near Anaheim. Neighbors reported hearing the crash and seeing a man flee from the scene.

Rolla Wright Dies At Garden Grove
Rolla C. Wright, 63, passed away yesterday at his home near Garden Grove. He had been a rancher in the Anaheim area for the past 16 years. He had been ill for some time.

Surviving members of his family are his wife, Mrs. Harriett Wright, two sons, Louis W. Wright, Anaheim, and James T. Wright, Los Angeles; two grandchildren, and two sisters and four brothers in the East.

The Rev. Ray Keech, pastor of the Garden Grove Baptist church, will conduct funeral services at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the Backs, Terry and Campbell chapel, 221 North Lemon street, Anaheim. Burial will take place in Fairhaven cemetery.

V.F.W. Post Will Get 25 Recruits

With the Southgate V. F. W. degree team presenting initiatory work, a class of 25 recruits will be taken into Ernest L. Kellogg post No. 1680, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the K. of C. hall.

All posts in the twenty-first district, including Corona, Elsinore, Riverside, Fullerton, Orange and Anaheim have been invited to bring recruits to the meeting.

The Southgate degree team received second place in a competition at the San Bernardino V. F. W. convention recently.

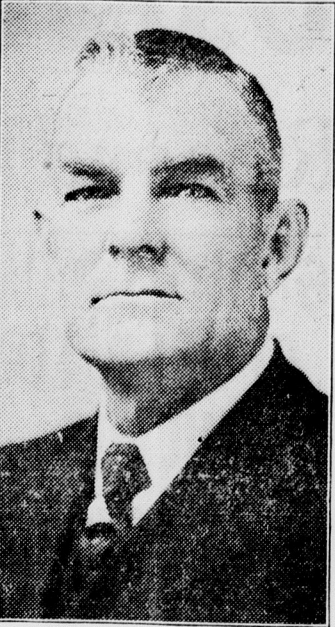

Glenn Hendrickson, local post commander, will preside. A joint meeting will be held later in the evening with members of Eugene Kellogg auxiliary. Refreshments will be served.

Federal Chorus Sings Tonight

With Marion Graaf as soprano soloist, the Orange county federal music project chorus will present a public concert at 8 o'clock tonight in the Unitarian church, Eighth and Bush streets.

Mrs. Dorothy Page Harper will direct the singers in a program of semi-classical selections.

S. A. Strong Man

STEPHEN A. CLARK

Staging his annual birthday celebration by demonstrating his unusual strength, Steven A. Clark, Santa Ana's strong man, will give his yearly public program at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow in Townsend hall, 509 West Fourth street.

He will observe his seventy-fourth birthday anniversary by his ability to do such stunts as lifting four of his grown grandchildren, perched on a 500-pound weight.

Clark, whose feat has been widely publicized in Robert Hix's "Strange as It May Seem" feature, makes a standing offer of $100 to any man his age who will duplicate all his stunts.

Appearing on the same program will be four Santa Ana colored girls, Anna May, Maville Jean, Dora Lee and Oclida June Burke, who will sing and play the piano and violin.

Ed Timmons, Orange county Townsend speaker, will address the gathering. The entertainment is open to the public.

GREECE ACTS TO OUTLAW RED MOVE

ATHENS—(AP)—The "strong man" of Greece, Premier John Metaxas, told the nation today he was going to crush Communism. Exercising a strong, if temporary, military dictatorship to cope with a general strike he said was fostered by Communists, the premier announced martial law would be strictly enforced until the nation was "secure against Communist agitation."

The whole nation, he added, must be "disciplined." He pushed his martial measures another step forward by shuffling the cabinet personnel as martial law continued to dominate the Hellenic nation.

"Complete failure" was the fate of the 24-hour general strike called by leftist trade unions which precipitated proclamation of martial law, dissolution of parliament, and mobilization of public service workers.

A semi-official agency reported the walkout collapsed after the government, with full approval from King George II, instituted stern measures against "a Communist plot."

KVOE OFFERING DANCE MUSIC

"Let's Dance" titles the opening portion of an hour's program of popular dance music on KVOE this evening beginning at 9 o'clock, featuring popular hit tunes of the day.

At 8 o'clock, Richard Auranit, "The Serenader," will preside at the console of the organ to offer a quarter-hour presentation of delightful melodies. He will play Moya's "Songs of Songs," "O Solo Mio" and Deppen's "Devotion."

At 8:15 will be heard the salon ensemble with Maurice Gumsky as guest artist and the enchanting melodies "Chant Hindoo," "Venetian Love Song," "Do You Really Care" and "Russian Melodies." Other classics will be presented between 8:30 and 9 o'clock.

POLICE REPORTS

P. H. Budd, 1807 North Main street, reported to officers his garage had been broken into and two dozen cans of fancy-pack apples, a rubber stamp, and possibly several candy bars were stolen.

W. U. Martin, 115 East Chestnut street, called police this morning, telling officers a dog was eating out of garbage cans near his home. Poundmaster H. D. Pickering was detailed to look for the hungry dog.

R. C. Bentley, cannery official, reported he had installed a bright light in an attempt to cut down thefts of fruit from the cannery tanks.

Newport Beach police telephoned the local office yesterday, reporting a boy named Jack Brown, 2217 Orange avenue, had been found at the beach city. Jack's parents were notified, and called for him.

Traffic fines in city court yesterday: O. N. Stock, speeding, $10; Theodore R. Lentz, speeding, $8; W. C. King, parking, $1; Everett A. Rea, speeding, $6; Edward T. Dolan, speeding, $8; Frank Ostrander, speeding, $5; Benjamin F. Anderson, speeding, $6; George H. Donahue, speeding, $5.

FLOODS SEEN BY WEATHER PROPHET

CHICAGO—(AP)—Selby Maxwell, the man who forecast last winter's heavy snow and this summer's drought months ahead of time said today a wave of floods would soon develop in the United States.

He predicted a long series of rains would push rivers over their banks from the Gulf of Mexico to Canada, washing out the drought. The first ripples of the flood wave had already appeared on the nation's weather map, he asserted, pointing to swollen streams in Colorado.

Recent rains had filled streams in the Southeastern states, the long-range forecaster went on, and it was here he expected the high water to make its earliest appearance.

Rainfall would gather volume as the autumn season progressed, Maxwell said, and the floods would move from the Southeast to the present heart of the drought land in the Northwest.

By September, he declared, the Mississippi would probably be on another rampage.

Maxwell hazarded no guess at the severity of the floods, which he forecast by astronomical formulae based on the way the moon wobbles in its orbit.

MOVIE DIAL ON WARD RADIOS

Pioneers in the field of radio engineering, Montgomery Ward now introduces an exclusive radio dial which promises to revolutionize the radio industry, according to an announcement made today by Myles Standish, store manager, here.

The innovation flashes the call letters to stations on a screen in large, illuminated letters with the twist of the tuning knob. The letters are large enough to be seen from any part of a room. A color filter shows the stations of the three wave bands (one standard and two short wave) in three colors, white, amber and green.

In commenting on this radically new step in radio improvement, Standish said, "As you no doubt know, Wards was the first to introduce 'instant dialing' several years ago. This new 'movie dial' carries that one step forward by cleverly enlarging and lighting the call letters so that you can stand away from the radio and tune it properly."

The new Ward radios are also equipped with a cathode ray "tuning eye" which enables the listener to judge visually the accuracy with which a station is tuned in. A variable black line in the "tuning eye" indicates, by its width, this accuracy—a hair line indicating perfectly accurate tuning.

The Port of Missing Men
The following names of missing persons are furnished The Journal through the courtesy of police identification at the sheriff's office.

Abel, John and Manuel Cordillo, your parents in Oakland are very much worried over your continued absence. Please contact the nearest police station or sheriff's office, and they will arrange for your return.

Dick Robertson, sheriff's officers are searching for you to inform you your wife and brother were killed yesterday in an automobile accident in Dallas.

Charles Davis and Cecil Compton, Yuma officers have asked a search of Southern California for you, since your disappearance last week from Arizona. Please write your parents in Colorado.

Robert Hatcha, your disappearance from Colton has caused much grief among your relatives. Please communicate with them at once, and funds will be sent for your return.

J. P. Brown, your friends in Los Angeles report that you have not arrived there from Oxnard, and your relatives in Oxnard have asked the assistance of police in locating you. Please communicate with them.

Dave Perry, since your disappearance from San Jacinto last week relatives have asked sheriff's officers to search for you. Please contact your home at once.

COURT BRIEFS
Sisto Hurtado yesterday gained permission of Superior Judge G. K. Seovel to compromise claims of his son, Juan, 4 years of age, against Francisco Macarrey for $250. The claim arose from an automobile accident at Anaheim March 18.

For injuries sustained by his daughter, Carolina, 5, in an accident at Orange June 18, Rosario Torres yesterday was allowed to accept a $100 settlement from A. R. Bowen. Superior Judge G. K. Seovel approved the settlement.

E. Walter Payne of Laguna Beach yesterday asked the superior court to appoint him administrator of the estate of his late aunt, Isabella Tharp, who died June 25. The estate, in cash, is valued at less than $1000, according to Payne's petition.

erett A. Rea, speeding, $6; Edward T. Dolan, speeding, $8; Frank Ostrander, speeding, $5; Benjamin F. Anderson, speeding, $6; George H. Donahue, speeding, $5.

HISTORICAL BROADCAST TONIGHT

Members of the federal historical research project in Santa Ana will conclude the series of three broadcasts concerning sports and recreation in Orange county in the early pioneer days, with a discussion of fox-hunting, grayhound coursing and rifle and pistol shooting with some interesting facts about some crack shots during this evening's broadcast from KVOE at 5:30. The historical broadcasts, scheduled every Thursday at the same hour, are made in cooperation with and under the auspices of the Santa Ana city schools.

Atmospheric music of early California days will be emulated in "Club Cabana" to immediately follow the historical broadcast at 5:45 this evening. Diego Romero and his Gauchos have selected a program of Latin-American dance music to include "Cielito Andalu," "Los Ojos," "Cuento Gaucho" and "Mama, Yo Quiero Novia."

"White Mule Mine," "Traveling With the Sun," "Rye Straw" and "Where the Morning Glories Grow" are the songs and tunes to be offered by Verne Spencer, Lem Slye, Bob Nolan and Carl and Hugh Farr, the Sons of the Pioneers, at 6:45 tonight. This group is known throughout the United States for many well-received and popular national broadcasts in addition to many local ones.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK.—A chance meeting on a train led to the forming of one of the greatest tennis doubles teams in history—George Lott and Les Stofen, Los Angeles tow-heads. Lou Gehrig played his 175th consecutive game for the Yanks yesterday. Ho hum! Just another iron man. Latest baseball chatter: Lots of snatching going on in the majors these days. The Red Sox beat the Yankees under the wire to Buster Mills, Rochester, outfielder. The Reds took Phil Weintraub from right under the nose of Charlie Grimm of the Cubs, who just couldn't make up his mind. The Yankees are way out in front, but Joe McCarthy is looking for an outfielder to replace the injured Myril Hoag.

Pat Malone will bet you 93 victories win the American league pennant. . . . And all the Yanks have to do to get them is break even from now on. . . . Big Ernie Lombardi never played a game of golf in his life, but he uses the interlocking golf grip to hit around .315 for the Reds.

Sometimes it pays to give the boys a hearing: Chubby Dean, one of the best pinch-hitters in the majors, quit Duke University last February to go looking for a baseball job. . . . The Yankees wouldn't listen. . . . Neither would several other clubs. . . . Old Connie Mack did and look what the wind blew in. . . . In more than 100 times at bat, Chubby is clouting over .300.

Vernon Kennedy, the White Sox pitcher, was the national decathlon champion eight years ago, but missed the Olympic boat. . . . The trials Vernon won were thrown out on technicality in the next ones, he finished fifth. . . . Twenty years ago the Dodgers used only three balls per game. . . . Now it takes more than two dozen. . . . And at $1.25 per throw, so to speak.

For two years Francis X. Shields, the tennis star, has been drawing down $400 a week while they groomed him for the movies. . . . Now he's got a top role in Edna Ferber's "Come and Get It." . . . Also a new contract calling for plenty more of what it takes.

Although the Cardinals pay him $50,000 a year, Branch Rickey rarely carries more than a few bucks in his pocket. . . . Not long ago somebody paid Rickey a $400 debt. . . . That Boston hotel, in which the theft occurred, promptly made good the loss.

At last, a Gibbons with a punch. . . . Old Mike was a master boxer, and so was Sheriff Tommy. . . . But neither could hit two cents worth. . . . Now along comes Mike's son, Jack, with a savage attack and beats up tough old Fred Lenhart.

Coast League Leaders Bumped By San Diego

By the Associated Press

Difference of only five games separated the first five teams in the Pacific Coast league today as the first-place San Diego Padres received another setback from San Diego's hard-driving Padres.

San Diego held third place in the standings by one-point margin as result of its 4-1 victory over the Tribe. The win was the work of Howard Craghead, former Seattle hurler, who allowed his old teammates only two hits.

Portland lost a chance to take the league lead when it dropped the second game of a doubleheader, 2-5, after gaining a 3-2 victory over the San Francisco Missions.

Oakland remained a bare three points ahead of the fifth-place Missions as Sam Gibson pitched the "San Francisco Seals to their second straight win over the Acoms, 7-3.

Sacramento and Los Angeles broke even in their doubleheader. Henry Phippen blanked the Seraphs, 4-0, in the first, while Fay Thomas won the second for the Angels, 5-2.

Beardslee Cops Star Race Again

NEWPORT BEACH.—Almost without exceptions, winners in yesterday's opener repeated again this afternoon as the annual Southern California Regatta week got in high gear of its five-day program.

The sterling performer today was again "Hook" Beardslee's world champion By-C, which can away from her twenty-six competitors in the Star class to win by a three-and-a-half-minute margin over Art Macrae's Zoa of Long Beach, which also was second yesterday.

How's Fishing?

NEWPORT BEACH.—Barracuda catches here yesterday averaged 10 per fisherman. A few white sea bass were caught but no yellowtail Albacore have not been biting since Saturday. A big run of barracuda was hoped for today.

CHAMPAGNE GIRL'S HUSBAND TO SUE

Giant Negro Threatens L'Mon Record Tonight

GRUDGE FIGHT SLATED FOR TOP SPOT

Sparkling Card Backs Up Heavy Feature; Kayo Vargas to Show

Colorful Lupe LeMon from Anaheim, who meets the popular negro fighter George Hughes in a rematch at the Orange County Athletic club, will make only one more appearance as an amateur fighter after tonight's epic affair, and for that reason, Promoter Bob Singleton expects one of the biggest fight crowds ever to flock to the highway fighthouse.

Tonight's battle is expected to be one of the most terrific, slug-ging affairs ever staged here, because LeMon beat him badly in the second rematch, Hughes has vowed to get revenge and plans to force the fighting every minute. He even expects to do what has never been done before—stretch Lupe out on the canvas.

Natural Grudge Event
LeMon is equally determined because he wants to leave the ranks of the simon-pure punchers with a great record to help him in his professional career. The fight is a natural grudge event, each boy having been given a decision over the other, and the two heavies are expected to throw leather so fast it will make the fans sit on the edge of their seats.

The LeMon-Hughes brawl is backed up with a promising group of fights, each of which should be a thrilling and fast-moving event. Tough Jimmy Davis may give Bud McCarter, Orange favorite, all he wants in the way of fighting.

Rav (Kayo) Vargas, who shot into the fistic limelight when he kayoed the popular Ken Holliday and who since has been knocking them right and left, has recovered from a broken hand injury, and is fine shape to take on black Johnny Wilke, one of the toughest and smartest fighters from Los Angeles.

Solis vs. Watenburg
Another favorite, Henry Watenburg of Capistrano, has been training hard for his encounter with Cruz Gomez. Santa Ana's flashy Raoul Solis meets Frenchy Cacho from Los Angeles. Solis is aiming at a rematch with Don Benzo, who won a disputed decision over him.

Alvino Orona, brother of Joe Orona, from Anaheim, will face Sandy Maynard, a rising newcomer. Clever Jimmy Merced from Placentia will fight Baby Buddy, flashy black youngster from L. A. Joe Orona will meet Al Rossi.

Lutze to Face Cantonwine Here Monday Night

One of the most daring and colorful wrestlers ever developed in the Midwest, Howard (Hangman) Cantonwine, late yesterday was signed to meet Nick Lutze in Monday night's three fall main event at the Orange County Athletic club.

Promoter Sam Sampson signed Cantonwine and Lutze after Lutze insisted that he be given another bout before meeting Champion Vincent Lopez at the 101 Highway club later this month.

Claiming that he had won three consecutive matches, had held former Champion Ed (Don) George to a one-hour draw and lost only on a fluke to Chief Little Wolf last Monday, the bronze former life guard pointed out the reason why he should be given consideration.

"Give me another match and if I lose, okay. Should I win give me the match when I beat Olaguiv-Pico and believe the fans feel the same way about it," said Lutze.

It's Jesse Owens Again

The Ohio State negro, Jesse Owens, made it two in a row at the Olympic games at Berlin when he captured the broad jump title with a record breaking mark of 26 feet, 5 21-64 inches, more than a foot better than the former Olympic standard although short of his own world's record. Jesse is shown in action in this radiophoto. (Associated press photo.)

GIANTS DRAW CLOSER TO CHICAGO

Coogan's Bluff Boys Get Pennant Rash as Cubs Continue Slipping

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

All because little Mel Ott has found the range again, pennant fever is spreading over Coogan's Bluff.

The Young Old Man of the majors has picked up his habit of parking those home run balls into the faraway right field stands at the Polo Grounds, stirring hopes for another Subway World's series between the Giants and the Yankees.

He has belted four homers in the last two days, 10 in the last 20 games, and with him as the spark plug, the Giants are traveling at a clip that may yet overtake the Cubs and Cardinals, and grab off the National league pennant.

Hits Two Homers
Three weeks ago—before Mel started mauling the apple again—Coogan's Bluff, that sector of New York the Giants call home, was mourning that the club would be lucky to wind up fifth or sixth.

Ott crashed over two homers yesterday to give the Giants an 8 to 4 decision over the Boston Bees. The victory was the New Yorkers' 17th in their last 21 starts, and enabled them to move up to 3½ games from the second-place (and still-slipping) Cubs.

The Cubs' hitting situation became more alarming than ever, as Roy Parmelee limited them to five hits in the Cardinals' major victory in a row over the Chicago champions, with a 4-1 win that boosted the Gas House Gang two full games in front of the pack.

The Dodgers climbed out of the National league cellar by hitting timely behind Ed Brandt's ninth-inning pitching and knocking off the Phillies 7-3, for the second straight day.

Browns Blast Kennedy
The Pirates and Reds battled it out in a tight night-game duel at Cincinnati, the Reds losing out, 6-4, through a four-run Red rally in the seventh.

In the American league, the lowly St. Louis Browns ruined Vernon Kennedy's 10-game winning streak with a 16-4 victory over the White Sox in the opener of a doubleheader. Rain halted the nightcap in the seventh, with the score knotted at 9-9.

The Yankees, paced by Comebacker Joe DiMaggio's homer and double, maintained their 11-game league lead with a 7-2 margin over the Red Sox.

The second-place Cleveland Indians saved something from the wreckage of their current series with the Tigers, a 6-4 decision.

The Athletics made it two in a row over the Senators with a 9-6 win.

Mrs. Cliff Miller Wins Bogey Match

Ladies day blind bogey matches at the Willowick Country club resulted in a tie between Mrs. Cliff Miller and Mrs. Rudy Schaffer yesterday. Mrs. Miller won the playoff.

The number drawn was 82. Both Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Schaffer came in with 81's.

Bones Hamilton To Marry Soon

HOLLYWOOD.—(P) — Robert (Bones) Hamilton, blocking football team last year, is combining romance with work in a current gridiron picture.

Friends said today he would wed Bernice Walters, Palo Alto debutante, at an early date.

Teuton Crowned Pentathlon King; U.S. Star Second

BERLIN.—(P) — Gotthard Handrick, oberleutnant in the German air force, today won the modern pentathlon championship of the eleventh Olympic games as American contestants finished second, seventh and ninth.

Handrick finished with the low total of 31.5 points as Charles F. Leonard of St. Petersburg, Fla., completed the five-event test in second place with 39.5 points.

Alfred D. Starbird of Burlington, Vt., was seventh with 67.5 and Lieut. Fred Weber of West Point, N. Y., ninth with 79.

BAND LEADER GETS COLD SHOULDER

To Take 'Proper Steps' Against Brundage on Return to N. Y.

BERLIN. (P) — The Eleanor Holm Jarrett case may be closer as far as the American Olympic committee is concerned, but the band leader husband of the swimmer star says he intends to take legal action against the committee.

Balked in his efforts for a conference with Chairman Avery Brundage on his wife's dismissal from the Olympic team for drinking and violating training rules, Arthur Jarrett announced he would take the "proper steps" on returning to New York.

After he was informed by Brundage there was nothing further to add in the case, Jarrett announced his plans, "first to obtain the facts about the case, which the American Olympic committee apparently tried to conceal, and secondly to get redress for damages done to my wife's reputation."

Declaring Brundage used high-handed methods in the situation, Jarrett said he was particularly incensed at the committee head's refusal to "sit down and have a quiet chat about the whole case."

runner, started next to last and never threatened as he finished ninth.

Lovelock's victory represented the British empire's fifth triumph in 11 runnings of the 1500-meter classic since the inaugural 40 years ago. The United States hasn't won the metric mile since J. D. Lightbody's triumph in 1904-06 and Mel Sheppard's victory in 1908.

Towns' victory in the 110-meter hurdles gave the United States a sweep in the timber-topping events. Previously Glenn Hardin of Greenwood, Miss., captured the 400-meter low hurdle title.

Towns Equals Record
Towns' victory in the listed world record shared by American Southerners, Percy Beard and Al Moreau, Towns won his semi-final heat earlier this afternoon in record-breaking time of 14.1 seconds.

The huge crowd went wild, acclaiming Bernhard Stoeck, who captured the javelin championship, breaking a Scandinavian monopoly on this event and giving Germany her third gold medal in the men's field events.

Stoeck saluted Chancellor Hitler after making what proved to be the decisive throw, 71.84 meters, 235 feet 8 13-32 inches.

Fin Losses Out
The javelin final saw the devastating of Finland's Matti Jarvinen, world record-holder at 251 feet 6 inches. He took fifth place with a throw of 69.18 meters, 226 feet 11 11-16 inches, as he was off form due to a lame back strained months ago.

Alton Terry of Brady, Tex., alone of the American trio, qualified for the finals. With a throw of 67.15 meters, 220 feet 3 1-2 inches, Terry took sixth place. Jarrett of Union City, Mich., did no better than 61 meters, 200 feet, 1-58 inch and Malcolm Metcalf of Los Angeles was under 60 meters, 196 feet, 10 1-2 inches.

Japanese Victor
Naoto Tajima of Japan broke the Olympic record during the hop, step and jump finals. He covered 15.76 meters, 51 feet 8 3-8 inches, as against the Olympic standard of 51 feet, 7 inches set by Chuhei Nambu of Japan.

The women's 80-meter hurdles final was won by Trebisnada Valla, Italy, 11.7 seconds; second, Anny Steuer, Germany, 11.7; third, Betty Taylor, Canada, 11.7; fourth, Catharina Brasteler, Holland; sixth, Doris Eckert, Germany.

400-Meter Trials
William Roberts, British star, captured the first quarter-final heat in the 400-meter run in 47.7 seconds, pulling away from Harold Smallwood of Ventura, Calif., in the stretch to win by nearly six meters. Mario Lanzi of Italy was third.

Archie Williams, Oakland, Calif., negro, was clocked in 48 flat in winning his quarter-final heat, under wraps. He beat the Argentine, Juan Anderson, by nearly six meters, with Johnny Loaring of Canada third, another four meters back.

Jimmy LuValle, Los Angeles negro, captured his quarter-final in 47.6 seconds. LuValle coasted in to beat Pierre Swavinsky of France and Godfrey Rampling of Great Britain by nearly three meters.

By I. N. (BRICK) GAINES

SLIPPED on a good story. About the Olympic games, and the woman swimmer who was cast from the fold because she gargled champagne instead of training for the games.

Frank Rospaw had a mention of the story in his Placentia Courier. It was about W. D. "Scotty" Muir, noted angler and former Olympic games swimmer.

"We trained on grog," Frank quotes Scotty as saying.

The Placentia swimmer has kept in training during the past few years, friends report, by falling off boats.

The mystery of Scotty's latest fancy swimming and diving exhibition still remains to be explained. He was with friends aboard a boat near the Coronado Islands when he suddenly flopped into the briny. Some claimed Scotty was chasing a fish. Others contended he dropped a nickel. But I'll find out about that mysterious swimming business some day!

Reader No. 3 will probably cast eyes bashfully aside for a few minutes, because I've broken out in another fishing rash. Very rash.

I'd like to comment on Darrel King and his boats at Newport Beach, but that'd be advertising, wouldn't it? Be that as it may, I went out on one of Darrel's boats, the Valencia, the other day, and had a fine time. It's a nice boat. Clean, nice-mannered crew, and the cook makes good hamburgers.

But that wasn't what I was trying to say, at all. It was about the fishing situation. We went all the way to San Pedro for our sacks full of barracuda. If we had a fishing preserve, perhaps we wouldn't need to travel so far.

On the trip to San Pedro, I counted seven purse seiners galloping about, looking for more fish to convert into fertilizer, or whatever they do with the tons and tons they catch. And lots of seals, looking about for a snack of a few hundred pounds of fish. Wasn't a very encouraging picture!

One learns lots of things about human nature on a boat. Mostly that sportsmen are even-tempered and good natured, and helpful.

There was the unfortunate, who was attacked with seasickness. Everyone tried to help, and there wasn't a word said about pork-chops. And a Japanese gentleman named Watanabe, with a number of his countrymen. He was the life of the party and everyone liked him. He was rewarded for his beaming good nature. He caught the most fish!

And then there was another party who presented another side of the picture. He had lots of trouble. His line insisted in tangling around the end of his pole. He jerked and pulled and made faces, and the blamed thing became worse. After about 10 minutes of struggle, he calmly broke the pole over his knee like one does firewood. That was that. He didn't swear or bother anyone with his troubles. And he was awful mad.

And then there was the gentleman with the Teutonic accent, who had a pet crocodile at home and who caught mackerel so the beast could have a good supper. Lotsa folks like that. 'Twas fun.

If you want to see two beautiful sights, go to Newport-Balboa this afternoon and evening.

In the afternoon dozens of sailboats should be staging an ocean race along between the two beach towns. Counted 75 yesterday. All classes, including Stars, "PC's," six-meters and larger craft, buoyantly bow and buoyantly. I discovered the international Star boat races last summer that I didn't know anything about sailboat racing, and I haven't added anything to my knowledge of the sport since, but those boats make a beautiful sight with sails filling before the wind. Which is enough for me!

The second sight is the breakers. At least, they were fine Tuesday night, and they should still be going strong. Anywhere between Newport and Balboa, late in the evening, the combers roar upon the beach and shoot high in the air before they crash. It's worth the trip.

Our "What's happened to?" department: First, what's happened to Bill Queale, president of the Fullerton junior chamber of commerce? Bill owes me a cigar. Next, George Kellogg? Every time I ask about George, he obliges with something I can print. Hope it works this time!

Midway Group Plans Dinner

MIDWAY CITY.—The Woman's society of the Community church will serve a noonday dinner at the Woman's clubhouse Thursday noon for the benefit of their organization.

Mrs. Fred Foley, Mrs. Boyd Pury and Mrs. C. N. Jones will be in charge of the affair.

ORANGE COUNCIL SLASHES $7000 FROM CITY'S BUDGET

$151,499 IS FIGURE FOR EXPENSES

All Departments Aid in Saving; Seek WPA Aid For Sewer Work

ORANGE.—Drastic reductions in municipal expenditures were announced at a city council meeting here last night, when the board adopted a tentative budget for the 1936-37 fiscal year $7000 less than for the previous period.

Expenditures for the coming year will reach a total of $151,499, board members estimated in adopting the budget. Last year's figure was approximately $158,500. Council members will sit as a board of equalization at 2 p. m. Aug. 14 to hear any protests on proposed expenditures, it was announced.

Departments Save
The budget reduction is due to a general saving in all departments and to lowering of other operating expenses, city officials said today.

Tentative amounts set aside for the various departments include: general fund, $18,148; street, $26,400; police, $19,908; fire, $12,110; park, $13,000; unappropriated reserve, $23,077; library, $11,235; library reserve, $6,310; city hall bond, $4612; joint outfall sewer, $12,800; 1936 sewer bonds, $3,900.

No tax rate can be set until the tentative budget is adopted as a permanent budget, and the returns completed on assessed valuation of property in the city.

A resolution was adopted providing authority for the mayor and city clerk to enter into an agreement with WPA to sponsor a project of installing sewers in several sections of the city, including West Almond, from Batavia street to Main street; part of East Almond avenue; North Glassell street; North Orange street; South Cambridge street; North Grand street and Lomita avenue. Application for the project has been filed and first approval given, it was announced by C. C. Bonbrake, city engineer.

The council also voted to raise the pay of Police Officer V. G. Wolfe to conform with the pay being received by other officers of the force.

Orange Chief Is Named Dogcatcher

ORANGE.—Police Chief George H. Franzen announced a two-week drive to collect dog taxes at a meeting of the city council Monday. Franzen was appointed by the council to serve as temporary poundmaster after the council had instructed him to dispense with services of Ralph Hight, poundkeeper for the past two years. A new dog catcher will be appointed soon, it was reported.

Orange Visitors From Indiana

ORANGE.—Guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Crist, North Pine street, are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Packer, Richmond, Ind. Mrs. Packer is a niece of Mr. Crist. The visitors arrived in Orange Monday night by way of the Redwood highway, and will make an indefinite stay in Orange. They plan to return to their home by way of Boulder dam and Yellowstone Park.

VISITS PARENTS
STANTON.—Mrs. King Rutledge was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. De Haven, Buena Park, recently.

WASTED TIME

(Fullerton News-Tribune)

The congressional committee "investigating" the Townsend Plan is again in session, this time in Chicago. Nobody seriously expects that the inquiry will develop any further information of consequence, or that any information will be of any practical use. The defiance of Dr. Townsend undoubtedly has embarrassed the committee, but it has provided a great deal of cynical amusement for the country at large. The net result of the whole "investigation" undoubtedly will be to solidify the ranks of the pension advocates and to make them more determined in pursuing their objective.

There is reasonable ground for the assertion of Dr. Townsend and his colleagues that the whole "investigation" is more political than genuine. If there has been any fraud committed by the sponsors of the plan, ample remedy lies in the department of justice. If the mails have been used for illegal purposes, the postoffice department is not lacking in resources to collect evidence and bring prosecutions. So far as congress is concerned, it has no more valid right or sound reason to "investigate" Townsend group than it has to "investigate" Father Coughlin or William Lemke.

We hope the Bell committee comes to its senses and abandons its work as gracefully as possible. It has shown neither good statesmanship nor good politics.

Newport Police Hunt Snakes As Part of Job

NEWPORT BEACH.—Police turned rattlesnake hunters here yesterday and rescued a woman in distress.

The rescue was effected when Mrs. J. A. Siegel, wife of Assistant Street Superintendent John Siegel, placed a rush call to police headquarters.

She had cornered a rattlesnake in her backyard, she informed Desk Sergeant Harry Hyde.

Officers Frank Naylor and K. E. Gorton rushed to Jasmine street in Corona Del Mar and shot the reptile.

BUILDING GAIN IN ORANGE

ORANGE.—Building permits for July totaled $12,975, it was announced by Frank E. Dale, building inspector, Tuesday. The permits were for four new residences valued at $11,700, with other permits for small repair jobs. Permits last July were only for the amount of $9255.

Construction in Orange for the past seven months has amounted to $139,343. Dale added, representing a large increase over value of permits issued in the same period of 1935. Totals for the first seven months of last year were but $40,910.

A new permit was issued to H. C. Head this week to erect a Monterey type stucco residence and garage in the 1100 block on West Almond avenue. This is the fourth of a group of 10 houses to be erected by Head in that locality.

JUNE STOWELL SPORT WRITER RITES HELD

MIDWAY CITY.—Funeral services for June Stowell, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Stowell, and her cousin, Marie Stowell, Marysville, who were drowned while bathing in the river near Marysville, were held at Marysville, according to word received here today.

The bodies of the two children, who disappeared Friday afternoon were recovered Friday evening, about three miles from where they entered the stream.

Mr. and Mrs. Stowell and son Howard left their home in this city last week to visit their daughter, Mrs. Grant Peterson, in whose home June had been spending several weeks, expecting to bring the little girl home with them.

Hardware Men Meet at H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Members of the Orange County Jackknife club met at the Golden Bear cafe here last night as guests of Mayor W. H. Warner, local hardware store dealer. The club is composed of hardware dealers of the county.

The group gathered early and enjoyed bathing in the Huntington Beach salt water plunge before a 6:45 p. m. dinner. Mayor Warner gave the address of welcome. Problems pertaining to the hardware business were discussed at the meeting.

ART PAGEANT COPYRIGHT SOUGHT

LAGUNA BEACH.—With filing of an application for copyright, steps were being taken today by Roy M. Ropp, local artist, to protect his production, "Pageant of the Masters," against possible attempts at imitation or near-reproduction by outside parties.

The pageant, showing living reproductions of famous paintings, was originated by Ropp, who also has supervised and directed its presentation at the Laguna Festival of Arts. It has proved the main attraction at the various festivals staged here. Included in this year's showing at the festival was Leonardo Da Vinci's famous masterpiece, "The Last Supper." Among other famous paintings, reproduced in the flesh, shown in the pageant were "The Gleaners," "Song of the Lark," "The Angelus," "St. Francis," "The Love Song," "Charity," "Mona Lisa," "Hope," "Ismael," "Going to Work," "Boy with the Rabbit," the "Sistine Madonna," "My Mother" and "Pinky."

The action taken by Ropp in seeking to protect his artistic production came as a result of numerous inquiries regarding technical phases of the undertaking, lighting and color effects.

WINDSORS PLAN BARN DANCE

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Plans for a huge barn dance next Wednesday night at the Tim Talbert ranch in Talbert and arrangements for a public dance at Memorial hall were outlined at a meeting of the Windsor club, organization of young Huntington Beach businessmen, last night. Two new members were initiated into the club at the meeting. The new members were City Engineer Harry Overmyer and Ed Di Fabio, employee of the Huntington Beach postoffice and former life guard.

Past President John Africa of the Windsor club was in charge of the initiation rites. He was assisted by President D. T. Tarbox. The meeting was held at the Windsor clubhouse on Crest avenue near Circle park.

COMEDY OPENS AT LAGUNA

LAGUNA BEACH.—A capacity house is expected for tomorrow night's opening performance of "Abie's Irish Boy," a satirical comedy dealing with Hollywood life, at the Community Playhouse on Ocean avenue.

The play is presented by the Laguna Beach Community Players under direction of Kurt Unkelbach, who is spending the summer in Laguna. The play was successfully produced in Hollywood, and now is scoring a hit at Rye Beach, N. H., where it is being offered by a stock company. The show will be repeated Saturday and Sunday nights.

The cast includes Helen Crawford, Peggy Thompson, Mickey Smith, Rowena Cook, Jane Safford, Diane Meredith, Charles Radford and others.

BAR PEDDLERS FROM CAMP

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Vacationists who spend their leisure time at the Huntington Beach ocean front Tent City will be assured a good long sleep in the morning here today.

No longer will the clanging of bells and the tooting of horns on vegetable wagons, pastry delivery trucks and other vendors' machines awaken the vacationists.

The city council announced yesterday that the campers Monday night by establishing a ban on rule that all peddlers should stay out of the camp until 9 a. m. What is more, the peddlers may only spend a half-hour in the camp in the morning and a half-hour in the afternoon.

Rites Held for Roger Sherman

LAGUNA BEACH.—Funeral services were conducted here today at the Laguna Beach funeral home for Roger B. Sherman, 51, landscape architect, who died Tuesday afternoon at a Santa Ana hospital following a long illness. The Rev. Father Arthur J. Hutchinson, a friend of the deceased, officiated. Interment was in Westminster Memorial Park.

Mr. Sherman was born in Cleveland, O. As a young man he took up the study of forestry and landscape, studying at the Biltmore Forestry school and Yale university studies in Germany. He took a prominent part in the landscaping of the grounds of the Santa Barbara and the San Juan Capistrano missions.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Marie Sherman; three sons, James, Arthur and Roger, jr., and one daughter, Mary Jane.

APPROVE BUDGET FOR G. G. AND ALAMITOS SCHOOLS

GARDEN GROVE.—Budgets for the Garden Grove and Alamitos elementary school districts for the year ending June 30, 1937, were adopted this week by the respective school boards when no objections appeared at public hearings on the proposed expenditures.

Total fund requirements for the Garden Grove schools will be $74,708 of which $1000 will go toward outstanding obligations July 1, this year. Of this amount $21,342 will be raised by district tax, the remainder coming from the state. Salaries amounting to $48,558 are the largest item on the budget, the remainder to be used for administration, library, operation and maintenance of plant, auxiliary agencies, and undistributed reserve.

The Alamitos budget was for $5330 of which $1540 will be raised by district tax. Outstanding obligations July 1 of this district were $350. Salaries here will amount to $3100.

The Garden Grove school board planned a special meeting for the middle of August when a successor for Mrs. Nell Harbottle, whose resignation was read at the budget meeting, will be named. Mrs. Harbottle has taught the third grade at Lincoln school for several years and is resigning to accompany her husband north.

CHURCH DINNER SLATE LAGUNA CHURCH PLAY

ALAMITOS.—More than 60 persons attended a covered dish dinner with which the Friends church missionary society entertained members of the Brotherhood in the church parlors Tuesday evening. Guests included the Rev. Ora Carrell, president of the Friends college in Central City, Neb., and Mrs. Carrell, dramatics instructor in the college.

The after-dinner program was presented by Mrs. Carrell, who appearing in costume gave several musical readings, with Miss Dorothy Barnes at the piano. The regular meeting of the society was announced as a picnic at Recreation park, Long Beach, Aug. 20.

Bishop Visits In Costa Mesa

COSTA MESA.—Bishop L. J. Birney, missionary, formerly of Shanghai, China, and now of Pasadena, had a brief stop in Costa Mesa today with the Rev. and Mrs. Crow S. Brown, 450 East Victoria street. Bishop Birney was once dean of Boston university.

MURDER TONIGHT

BY LAURENCE W. MEYNELL

SYNOPSIS: Inspector Hylton is undergoing the discouragement of having his suspects prove themselves innocent. He is also the victim of the murder of an ancient and miserly old Arthur Burdett. Burdett was such an unsavory character that all of Hope Enderton rather rejoices in his violent end. Unfortunately, his lack of popularity also makes it possible that almost anybody in the village might have had a hand in the murder. But the Inspector believes that a certain hard-dressing appointment may have had a good deal to do with things, and has caught a ride to Morechester to look into it. A constable has just stopped them to look at the driver's license.

Chapter 24 CIGARET CASE

The constable closed his book with a snap, such levity did not commend itself to him. "I'm afraid you'll be 'earing more 'bout this, Mr. Fanshawe," he said.

"I don't doubt it," Charles Fanshawe answered bitterly as he engaged low gear.

"Can you beat it?" Fanshawe asked as they moved away again. "Wouldn't that burn you up? Well, that's a fiver up the spout anyway. Here's the pub I was telling you about where the barmaid is. I suppose it's her night off as well. Let's stop and have one, shall we?"

Hylton had not the heart to urge the hurry he was in, and they duly climbed out of the car on the cobble approach in front of the inn.

"Come on, Cut-throat Cuthbert," Fanshawe called out boisterously to the tramp, "you may as well drown your sorrows with the rest of us."

The figure in the back of the car needed no second invitation, and within half a minute they were all three standing in the bar.

"Here, let me do this," Hylton begged, but young Fanshawe wouldn't hear of it. He slipped down half a crown on the counter and ordered three pints of beer in tankards.

The city council announced yesterday that the campers Monday night by establishing a ban on rule that all peddlers should stay out of the camp until 9 a. m. What is more, the peddlers may only spend a half-hour in the camp in the morning and a half-hour in the afternoon.

"This 'ere 'I'd do me, thank 'ee, sir," the tramp said.

"I expect you're every sort of rascal unchanged," Fanshawe said, but I suppose you'll want something for supper. Drink yourself to death on this."

The tramp took the proffered two shillings in surprise. In a curious way the gift seemed to affect him quite strongly.

"My name's Alf Durely," he said, "and I reckon you two gentlemen are gentlemen. Treated me properly you 'ave. And no one's ever done me a good turn and not got it back." He laughed. "That rozzler didn't half throw 'is weight about, did 'e? But 'e didn't know anything, any road. 'E didn't know as I'd taken this, for a start."

Mr. Durely fished about in his voluminous clothing and produced a small black-covered book, which he threw on the counter.

"My God, the constable's notebook," Fanshawe cried in incredulous delight. "How the hell did you get that, Tim? And Tim's one of 'em aren't as soft as we look," Mr. Durely replied cryptically.

Kingsley Hylton, though amused, was a trifle thoughtful. Problem of the week: how in

EXPECT 3000 AT PENSION GATHERING

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—More than 3000 Townsend club members from Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties will gather here Sunday for a big annual beach picnic and program, it was announced today. Townsend leaders of national importance will be on the speaking program. A special band concert will be given for the visitors through the courtesy of city officials and the Huntington Beach chamber of commerce by the Huntington Beach municipal band.

Harry L. Sheppard, candidate for congress in the Nineteenth district, will be one of the speakers, as will Judge Harry Summers of San Bernardino. Robert Hosmer, president of the Huntington Beach Townsend club and City Clerk Charles R. Furr, vice president of the club, are in charge of the general arrangements.

Mayor Willis H. Warner will give an address of welcome to the visiting Townsend delegates. Special tables and extra chairs will be provided on the ocean front for the noon picnic.

The picnic will be one of the biggest held on the local strand during the entire summer. Two other picnic groups are scheduled to meet here tomorrow. The Vortex Manufacturing company of Claremont will bring more than 200 employees here for an annual picnic tomorrow, while members of the Orange County superior court jury panel will gather on the beach tomorrow for their annual beach supper. Mrs. Margaret Colvin is in charge of the arrangements for the supper party.

Smeltzer Family On Vacation

SMELTZER.—Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Heil, accompanied by Mrs. Heil's mother, Mrs. Minnie Allen and Billy and Robert Heil, left Tuesday morning for San Francisco to remain for the balance of the week.

MURDER TONIGHT

BY LAURENCE W. MEYNELL

SYNOPSIS: Inspector Hylton is undergoing the discouragement of having his suspects prove themselves innocent. He is also the victim of the murder of an ancient and miserly old Arthur Burdett. Burdett was such an unsavory character that all of Hope Enderton rather rejoices in his violent end. Unfortunately, his lack of popularity also makes it possible that almost anybody in the village might have had a hand in the murder. But the Inspector believes that a certain hard-dressing appointment may have had a good deal to do with things, and has caught a ride to Morechester to look into it. A constable has just stopped them to look at the driver's license.

"Nice cigarette case you've got there," he said.

Mr. Durely obligingly produced the case for further inspection. "Not too bad, is it?" he said, "worth a shilling or two I'll be bound. What it wants is twenty cigarettes inside it to make it look better." He opened the case to show its lamentable emptiness and Hylton gave a start. Engraved on the inside of the case in the replica of a flamboyant feminine hand were the words

Dale Shipley from D. 1932.

"How did you come by that?" he asked at length. Mr. Durely restored the case to one of his many pockets and gave a wink. "Sometimes things 'appen very fortunate in this world," he remarked.

"Drink up your beer and come on," Fanshawe urged, "or I shall be late."

"Half a minute," Hylton said, speaking quietly so as not to attract the attention of the barmaid. "I didn't want to parade the fact, but I'm afraid I've got to now. I am a Detective Inspector from Scotland Yard. Here's my card."

Stupefied silence followed this somewhat staggering revelation; silence broken by the tragic tones of Mr. Alf Durely.

"My oath," that astonished man exclaimed poignantly. "You mean to say as 'ow you're a flatmate?"

"I'm afraid so," Hylton said, almost apologetically. "It is a bit awkward, isn't it?"

Durely suddenly broke into a torrent of apprehensive explanation. "Look 'ere, Mister, I just picked that case up, straight I did, the young gentleman dropped it."

"What young gentleman?"

"Strike me, guv'nor, I don't know. Met me down on the road there a day or two ago, last Monday night it was because—"

"Last Monday night? What time?"

"'Bout 'arf past seven it must 'ave been."

"Where?"

"Where the back lane comes down from the big yellow 'ouse where the old gent was kiboshed—'ere bilmeys, guv'nor, don't get mixing me up with that lot for Gawd Almighty's sake."

"All right, don't get excited, Durely, but—"

"Is this the straight goods," Fanshawe interrupted, "or are you pulling our legs?"

"No. It's true right enough. I do happen to be from Scotland Yard, though I've nothing to do with the local police."

Charles Fanshawe made a comic grimace. "Looks as though I'm for it after all," he lamented, "about the license, I mean."

PROPOSE STATE LAW TO ABOLISH COUNTY EQUALIZATION BOARD

CHANEY GETS LIONS CLUB HONOR

Deputy District Governor Appointment Comes To Santa Ana

Homer Chaney of this city today was appointed deputy district governor of Lions clubs for Orange and San Diego counties.

Dr. E. H. Rowland, former district governor, received the announcement today from M. G. Lickteig of Oakland, newly elected district governor for the fourth district. He informed the Santa Ana Lions of Chaney's appointment at the noon meeting of the club today.

Chaney's duties will be to act virtually in the capacity of district governor in this zone. He will carry out the policies of the district governor, contacting each club in the district and advising the organizations in their development.

Chaney is director of the Orange county federal forum project which will get under way in September. He formerly was connected with the First National bank, from which he now has a leave of absence. He formerly was president of the Santa Ana Lions club.

Dr. Rowland, who made the announcement, was district governor in 1931-1932, and was international director from 1932 to 1934.

History Makers Father Junipero Serra Founded San Juan Capistrano Mission

(Men are remembered after their death for their unselfish service to their fellow men. Robert Gardner of Orange has written a series of articles about pioneers of this section, which The Journal will publish in order to preserve the memory and deeds of outstanding characters. Today's sketch tells about Father Junipero Serra.—Editor.)

Father Serra was "austere in habit, slept on a board, wore neither shoes nor stockings and never drank wine. He ate only plain food."

Serra said that the chief aim of annexation of the vast waste of California was to redeem heathen souls. He was a zealous worker for what he thought was serving the barbaric red men by bringing them the civilization of the whites.

At mass (it is recorded he beat himself with a chain across the chest until he fell prostrate upon the altar. He was a fanatic upon religion, of which nothing more concerning that phase of his life will be said here.

Serra was the second governor of California. He succeeded Portola. While he was governor, he did much. He established missions and started the first steps in the plan to civilize the Indians.

He believed: "Mind triumphs over matter."

In Orange county, Serra is connected with the history of San Juan Capistrano mission. He founded it on Nov. 1, 1776. Of course, Padre Lasuen, on Oct. 30, 1775, celebrated mass at the spot where the mission stands, and planted a cross.

Serra found that cross and blessed the spot again, and the mission was given its real start. Father Junipero Serra founded many of the California missions. It was through the missions that he brought civilization and made neophytes out of the pagans. He brought the white man's God to California. That is considered by the Christian world a great service.

He was born on the Isle of Majorca, Spain, Nov. 24, 1713. He became a Franciscan and devoted his life to the service of his fellow men.

He arrived at Loreto, April 1, 1769, for service in California. That date was the beginning of the greatest religious service to California and the Indians. He died Aug. 28, 1784.

Combine the UCX with the UCOC, and what do you get?

It isn't quite certain whether the offspring will be named UCOCX, UCXOC, or what, but directors of the county's 20 self-help cooperatives plan to merge their organizations into one group instead of two, and simplify procedure that way.

Members of cooperatives next week will hold meetings and vote on the proposal, and then their directors will hold a joint meeting and vote again for final decision. Combined by the operation will be the six units of the United Cooperative of Orange county (UCOC) and the 14 units of the United Cooperative exchange (UCX).

The two groups perform the same functions, it was explained by William Ruddiman, manager of the cooperative warehouse here, but just happen to be operating under different names. A merger would simplify administration, but would not affect workers greatly, he said.

Mrs. Talkington Weds WPA Worker

MARTINEZ. (P)—Arthur Harry Coleman, 30, of Martinez, and Mrs. Bertha Talkington, acquitted last February of a charge of slaying her husband, Lamar E. Talkington, were married in Crescent City, Calif., July 25, Coleman said today.

Coleman, a WPA worker, said he and his bride will make their home at Tracy. The couple are staying at the home of Coleman's mother here.

Mrs. Talkington was sentenced to life imprisonment in January, 1935, after being convicted of murder in the first degree in the death of her husband, a Merced and Watsonville barber. Talkington was found Oct. 16 beside a lonely Merced county road with a bullet hole through the head. She pleaded self defense, saying she killed Talkington to resist a drunken attack. She was acquitted at a second trial.

CROP RECORD BROKEN BY AVOCADOS

Fuerte Variety Returns Forge Far Ahead of 1935 Figure

This summer's record crop of avocados is 60 per cent larger than that of the July-September period last year. It is approximately eight times as large as the 1932 crop.

Calavo growers announced that the Fuerte variety will return two to two and one-half times as much per packed box as it did last season.

These were two of the highlights in a statement made public today by the Calavo Growers of California.

Fuerte Returns

"Summer production was relatively small until two years ago, when considerable acreage of new summer varieties came into commercial bearing," said the announcement.

The season's crop of the Fuerte variety, despite the fact that it is smaller than that of last year, is expected to return as much net in dollars and cents as was realized from the 1935 crop.

Calavo Fuertes brought growers, at their orchards, the following "average" net returns this season, as against those for last season:

Signup Closing

Pool 1, total of $3.13 per 13-pound flat or packed box, against $1.27 a year before; pool 2, $1.98 against 82 cents; pool 3, $1.46 against 61 cents; pool 4, $1.36 against 60 cents; pool 5, $1.31 against 61 cents; pool 6, $1.39 against 59 cents; pool 7, $1.34 against 66 cents, and pool 8, $1.32 against 68 cents per flat a year before.

The most popular sizes netted growers even higher returns, said the statement.

The signup period, for additional growers desiring to participate in the national marketing program next season, closes Aug. 15, it is also announced. Well over 200 acres of additional commercial groves have become affiliated in the last several weeks.

Bond Sale Boosts MWD Tax Rates

The Metropolitan Water district tax rate will continue to rise year by year until the aqueduct is completed and the organization begins to sell water. This was explained today by Col. S. H. Finley of Santa Ana, secretary of the district.

More bonds must be sold each year to pay for the big construction project, he explained. Naturally this means that more taxes must be collected to pay interest on the bonds. Last year the rate in Santa Ana doubled and it is natural to expect that, with more bonds being sold, this ratio of increase may continue this year, Colonel Finley said.

Alcatraz Doors Open for Karpis

SAN FRANCISCO. (P)—Alcatraz prison doors opened today for Kidnaper Alvin Karpis and other "incorrigible" midwestern convicts.

The prisoners were unloaded at the Oakland mole today from the heavily guarded railroad cars on which they were brought from Leavenworth prison and ferried to the escape-proof prison in San Francisco bay. Guards allowed no one near the convicts.

Chain Letters Inspire Dr. Huston's Campaign; Leroy Lyon Says Dignity Needed

There's a lot of life in the old chain letter idea still. That's the theory of Dr. C. G. Huston of Costa Mesa, in carrying out his campaign for nomination for the state senate.

Supervisor Leroy Lyon of Anaheim, figures a campaign for reelection should be dignified to be most effective.

Dr. Huston, harking back to the chain letter craze for an idea when outlining plans for his campaign, explained his theory this way:

"My friends giving my cards to their friends, who in turn give them to their friends," he says, "give my campaign the same effect as the chain letter—it goes on and on."

He is conducting his campaign almost strictly on the personal note—and likes it.

Since he likes talking to people it's no trouble for him to contact as many as possible in his swings about the county.

To each of them he points with pride to his affiliations with the

VOTING RIGHT OF CCC MEN UPHELD

Clerk Says Nevada Rule Denying Ballot Does Not Apply Here

Although CCC enrollees in Nevada have been barred from voting by an attorney-general's opinion, they may vote in this county if they have registered properly and have declared their camps to be their residences, County Clerk J. M. Backs said today.

CCC officials have agreed to allow CCC boys of voting age three days vacation—one day with pay—in order to go home to vote.

Because of the vast distances involved, relatively few will use the opportunity, it was said.

"If a man is 21 years of age or more he can declare his own residence," said Backs today. "He must, of course, have lived in the state one year, in the county 90 days, and in the precinct 40 days."

If enrollees declare some other place to be their residence, such as San Francisco, they may register there and vote by absentee ballot.

Relatively few CCC workers are registered as voters here, it was understood. Backs said he has not determined the exact number.

Attorney-General Mashburn of Nevada ruled that CCC enrollees whose families do not reside in Nevada have not acquired residence by being in camp and therefore cannot vote. In Arizona, however, they were declared to have attained residence for voting.

Florida Renews Appeal to Color Its Citrus Fruit

Orange county citrus growers today were interested in Florida's renewed appeal for federal approval of its process for coloring citrus fruit. Representatives of the industry asked Secretary of Agriculture Wallace to place his stamp of approval on the coal-tar dye process for artificial coloring.

The department of agriculture has already issued an order banning use of dye on fruits shipped in interstate commerce, but the Florida leaders said they are hopeful this rule may be modified.

Coloring of citrus fruits is not practiced in Orange county. In the past few years some experiments have been carried on along this line but coloring never has become popular.

More Payments For Walnut Men

BERKELEY. (P)—The Agricultural Adjustment administration announced at its regional offices here that the walnut control board has filed vouchers claiming additional walnut diversion payments of approximately $725,000.

The AAA representatives said it was anticipated a portion of this claim will be paid immediately and final payment will be made next fall.

L. A. Episcopal Canon Dies

LOS ANGELES. (P)—The Rev. Alfred Fletcher, canon of St. Paul's Episcopal cathedral, died at his home yesterday after a long illness. He was 80 years of age.

Fletcher had resided in Southern California for 50 years, during which he held numerous rectorships.

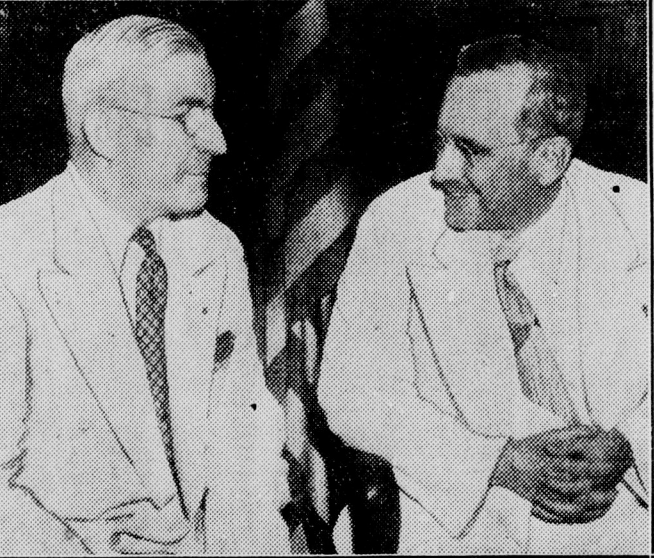

Not Renting Halls

Supervisor Leroy Lyon of the third district thinks incumbents should carry on quiet, dignified campaigns, particularly in the primaries, so that the kind he's planning, he said today.

He speaks when he's invited, but isn't renting halls or going in for anything spectacular. About 100 persons are handing out his 15,000 cards, he estimates. Lyon has 10 or 15 "nice signs" to erect, but he wants to look up the outdoor advertising laws first.

Hoping that personalities will not become an issue, Lyon bases his campaign so far on his record, and expects his newspaper ads in each community of his district to point out the things he has sponsored of particular interest or benefit to that district.

Sharps and Flats From The Political Bandwagon

COUGHLIN AGREES TO BET ON BALLOT

DETROIT. (P)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin announced he was forwarding to Frederick L. Jenckes, of Providence, R. I., an acceptance of his offer to wager $25,000 on a 3-to-2 basis on the vote polling chances of Rep. William Lemke, Union party's presidential nominee, and Gov. Alf M. Landon, Republican nominee. In a letter to Jenckes, Father Coughlin pointed out that the original wager proposal was on which candidate would poll more votes in Rhode Island.

JACK DEMPSEY NAMED F. D. R. CAMPAIGN AIDE

NEW YORK. (P)—Jack Dempsey stepped into the political ring today as head of the sports committee of the Democratic national committee in the campaign to re-elect President Roosevelt. "I feel highly honored," said the former heavyweight boxing champion, "at my selection to head this important group. In a few days I hope to announce the men and women prominent in the world of sport, who will be associated with me."

G. O. P. NAMES NEGRO WOMAN TO HEAD DRIVE

CHICAGO. (P)—Mrs. Mary C. Boozie of Mound Bayou, Miss., negro, Republican national committeewoman from Mississippi, has been named an assistant to Mrs. Grace B. Reynolds, western director of the Republican national committee's women's division. Mrs. Boozie will be in charge of organizing presidential campaign activities among negro women of the 29 states of the western division.

AL NOT TO ATTEND MEETING OF "ANTIS"

NEW YORK. (P)—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith said he would not attend the conference of anti-New Deal Democrats in Detroit Friday. The 1928 Democratic presidential candidate would make no comment on the conference—called by Sterling Edmunds, St. Louis attorney—except to say that previous engagements would keep him in New York.

REAL ESTATE MEN WOULD GET JOB

Bill's Sponsor Claims Work Too Heavy for Official Body

Orange county's board of equalization was threatened with extinction today.

This body, composed of the board of supervisors sitting annually to make assessment adjustments on property, may never convene again, it appeared today.

A bill being drawn in Los Angeles, to be introduced at the next session of the legislature, would abolish county boards of equalization.

Shift Burden

The measure would take the responsibility from the shoulders of the board of supervisors and transfer it to a board of real estate experts appointed for the purpose.

The supervisors meet for approximately two weeks each year to make the tax assessment adjustments.

At the request of the Los Angeles county board of supervisors the county council's department here is preparing the bill which would sound the death knell of county boards of equalization.

Supervisor Leland M. Ford, a real estate dealer himself, is sponsoring the proposed new law.

Too Much Work

"Boards of equalization were formed when counties had small populations," said Supervisor Ford. "It's unfair to expect the supervisors to take time out each year to handle a job which should be handled by a group of men expert in the work. I hope the legislature will adopt the new law, which would relieve the supervisors of this work."

To Revive Past At Museum Meet

William McPherson, K. P. Frederick and Mrs. T. S. Grimshaw will appear as speakers tomorrow night at the August meeting of the Orange County Historical society.

McPherson will speak on "Incorporation of Our Cities." Frederick's topic will be "Prehistoric Indians of Southern California," and Mrs. Grimshaw will speak on "Girlhood Recollections."

The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. in the Bowers Memorial museum, 2010 North Main street.

Mother-in-law of Governor Dies

'BILLIES' SING AT BREAKFAST

"The Blue Ridge Mountaineers," a local hillbilly organization, entertained the proceedings of the Breakfast club this morning with instrumental and vocal numbers, also leading the club singing, in which about 40 members and guests took part. Floyd Stewart was program chairman. He introduced his guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Carroll, of the city. President Ed Coughlin announced an initiation service for next week, at which time new members will be formally welcomed. The program selection was assigned to Ed Marble.

Pioneers to Mark Golden Wedding

A span of 50 years, from Aug. 18, 1886, to Aug. 18, 1936, will be commemorated later this month by a pioneer family of Orange county when they gather to celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. U. J. Ross, old-time residents of Santa Ana.

The ceremony in which Miss Hattie Mauley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Mauley, former Missouri cotton planters, became the bride of Mr. Ross was solemnized at the home of her sister, Mrs. Kate Doyle, just a block from the home in which the Rosses have lived throughout their married life at 1429 North Baker.

Mrs. Ross came to Santa Ana in September, 1886, with Mrs. Doyle, who now resides in Alhambra, and was married the following year to the eldest son of Josiah and Sarah Ross, pioneers of Santa Ana. The father and mother, the Josiah Rosses, had come across the plains by ox team train in 1865 and settled in Salinas valley for a short time, then coming to Los Angeles and settling in what is now Orange county.

Josiah Ross purchased 275 acres of land, including much of the present western part of the city, part of which is now the home place of Mr. and Mrs. U. J. Ross. The house in which they live was built in 1907.

The couple's four sons and three daughters-in-law—Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ross of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ross of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Ross of Santa Ana, and Ernest Ross of the home—will all be present to participate in the golden wedding dinner which is planned for Sunday, Aug. 16, at the Raymond Ross home on Oakmont, together with five grandchildren of the honored couple. These latter include Raymond, Jr., and Virginia of the Raymond Ross home, Bobby and Lee of the Melvin Ross household, and Ruth Loe, daughter of the Carroll Rosses.

FRIENDS GATHER FOR LUNCHEON AT WALKER HOME

Mrs. George Walker presided over an informal luncheon and afternoon party today at her home at 2425 Valencia street, with a group of friends who keep up their association in frequent gatherings of the kind as her guests for the day.

A few other friends and one out-of-town visitor also shared the afternoon of bridge, knitting, and visiting with the group, those making up the party including:

Mrs. Albert Harvey and her house guest, Miss Josephine Stevens of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. George Spielman, Mrs. C. Harold Dale, Mrs. Robert Guild, Mrs. Alvin Stauffer, Mrs. Gail Jordan, Mrs. James Walker, Mrs. Frederick Elliott, Mrs. Charles McDaniels and Mrs. Margaret Barnes, the latter the mother of the hostess.

KOOL KOOKERY

Dedicated to helping Santa Anans arrange cooling meals with a minimum effort and cooking, this column will present daily a recipe appropriate for hot-weather menus.

It has a brown meringue on top, and a crisp, graham cracker crust beneath—and ice cream for filling!

That's ice cream pie, as Mrs. David M. Jellis makes it. She first crumbles graham crackers and mixes them smoothly with softened butter to form the pie crust.

Into the oven it goes, to be baked, then out to cool and be chilled in the refrigerator. Next the crust is filled with ice cream and the beaten whites of three eggs are spread on top.

Thereupon the pie is slipped into the broiler, to brown the meringue as quickly as possible, and from there the dinner table is the next stop.

O. E. S. RECEPTION IS POSTPONED TO SEPTEMBER

An old-fashioned "spell down" and other games entertained members of Hermosa chapter, O. E. S., and their guests following regular meeting in Masonic temple Monday evening.

Mrs. William Thomas, and Mrs. Roscoe Wilson were members of the reception committee. Mrs. Ruby Drake directed games.

Mrs. Victor Soper was introduced as a new member by affiliation, during chapter meeting conducted by Miss Henrietta Bohling and Wilford Lewis. Escort honors were accorded past matrons and patrons and visiting chapter heads.

The reception scheduled for Mrs. James A. Tarpley, deputy grand matron, was postponed from Aug. 29 to September. It was announced that a drill team from Los Angeles would attend Hermosa chapter meeting Aug. 17.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Leona Miller, assisted by Mrs. Lucille Cameron, Mrs. Zita Edmonds, Francis Jacoby, J. A. Havery and Everett Mateer.

Out-of-town visitors present included Mr. and Mrs. Joseph French, Ontario, Mrs. E. W. Childs, Norfolk, Neb., C. A. Knowlton, San Antonio, Tex.; Mrs. Stella Meyers, Milbank, S. D.; Miss Marie Meyers, Tulare; Mr. and Mrs. R. M. James and Mrs. Elizabeth Finn, East Orange, N. J.

Proud occupants of their newly-built home at 2215 North Flower street are Dr. Milo K. Tedstrom and Mrs. Tedstrom, who moved in a few days ago from their former residence on West Washington boulevard.

Tonight they will entertain Dr. Harry Davis and Mrs. Davis, friends from Kansas City, Mo. The Davises, who arrived by plane Sunday in Los Angeles, will make several visits to the Tedstroms before returning east.

DINNER MARKS FOUR BIRTHDAYS

Four birthday anniversaries were marked last night at a dinner party at the E. M. Tallon home, 511 West Nineteenth street, where members of the family assembled for a happy birthday celebration.

Accorded places of honor at the prettily appointed table were Mrs. Tallon, her mother, Mrs. E. E. Pierce of San Francisco, who is a guest at the Tallon home, and her small niece, Sherry Pierce of Anaheim, all of whom were celebrating their birthdays yesterday, and also Robert Tallon, son of the hosts, whose birthday was the previous day.

Others in the party were Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Pierce of Anaheim, parents of Sherry, and a son, Leland Pierce, and Mr. Tallon and daughter, Avis Marie.

DAISIES BRING GREETINGS ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. W. H. Wyckoff of 1611 West Eighth street, assisted by her niece, Miss Irene Wyckoff, and Miss Gladys London, gave a surprise party at her home Tuesday, honoring her niece, Miss Violet Wyckoff, on her 16th birthday anniversary.

The affair was an evening lawn party, balloons, lights, and serpentine ribbons decorating the grounds as a setting for the hours of gaiety.

Invitations issued for the party were "Daisies won't tell" messages, and the daisy motif was carried out in the decorations.

After a period of outdoor games, a wheelbarrow laden with gifts was brought in and stopped before Miss Violet at her seat in front of the patios fireplace, and the guests enjoyed watching her open the prettily wrapped packages.

On long tables, the daisy motif appeared again in centerpieces with candles added, and the daisy colors, yellow, green, and white, prevailed in the birthday cake which was served with ice cream.

Guests present were Marjorie Couch, Betty Joe Henderson, Irene Marshall, Vivian Raul, Betty Johnson, Janet Harwood, Marguerite Wilson, Laila Brown, Sarah Ann Stoker, Violet Wyckoff, Don Oilphant, Clifton Steele, Kenny Warren, Wally Koffman, Cecil Harrin, Harold Stowe, Bud Wyckoff, Bill Henry, Walter Ranney, Jr., Creighton Hunter, Stanford King, and Jack Hall.

DELEGATE TELLS OF CONVENTION

Telling of her trip east and major activities at the Woman's General Mission meeting recently held in St. Louis, Mo., Miss Martha Smith, delegate from Los Angeles, addressed members of the local branch of the organization at the United States Presbyterian church last night.

She was introduced by Mrs. W. B. Gibson. Mrs. W. S. Kennedy, head of the organization, presided. The meeting replaced the customary mid-week prayer service.

Miss Adda Cowan led a brief devotional service. Mrs. Gibson read recommendations from the general convention, and Mrs. A. E. Kelly reported news items. The Rev. M. M. Tidball closed the meeting with prayer.

REBEKAH GROUP PICNIC SLATED

Combining installation of officers with a pleasant, outdoor meeting, Veteran Rebekahs will assemble tomorrow in Birch park.

School for Bridge Club P.T.A. Ends

Membership in a Parent-Teacher association is the only way the parent can keep in touch with the school and help in keeping the schools progressive and remedying unsatisfactory conditions, according to Mrs. W. E. R. Crawford of the Santa Ana P.T.A. council, and the stronger the association the more can be accomplished toward the organization's objective—the welfare of the child in home, school and community.

This was the opening thought brought by Mrs. Crawford last night to the council school of instruction, in which she gave instructions to presidents of associations.

Advice for Presidents

Making a plea for choice of enthusiastic leaders, she then laid down a set of instructions for association heads, urging them to inform themselves of P.T.A. principles and policies and see that they are carried out, to know the by-laws of their groups, to know the few necessary parliamentary laws, to have a written order of business and stick to it, and not to let the business meeting drag.

In regard to programs, she urged a real P.T.A. theme for each meeting and an objective toward which to work during the year.

Before her talk, Mrs. John Mills, the new council president, presided over a short business meeting, during which the budget, presented by Mrs. James Givens, was adopted.

Other Instructors

Other conferences held during the evening besides that of the presidents was the parliamentary, conducted by Mrs. Neil Beisel; historians, by Mrs. D. G. Tidball; secretaries, by Mrs. Mills; treasurers, by Mrs. Dale Elliott, announcing Nov. 1, Jan. 1 and March 1 as dates for sending the dues; and a council, second vice presidents, by Mrs. Floyd Mitchell, life membership and state loan chairmen, Mrs. Adkins.

Last night's session closed the two-day school of instruction conducted at the Willard school auditorium, and the council adjourned to meet next on Sept. 1, the place to be announced.

Members of the Mother Singers group are the Mesdames G. E. Welsh, H. H. Honer, M. E. Hill, W. P. Magee, Ben Beasley, J. J. Jacobs, N. E. Wilson, A. A. Beard, E. J. Miller, E. H. Lumen, C. N. Grace, Herbert Birt, Will Sebastian, Thursa Snow, G. R. Barrett, H. Yancey, F. P. Nickey, Jr., Marie Klingenberg, Iva Hailman, Annie Wild, and Miss Minnie Penman.

Several of the party were to participate in the opening parade, today at 3 o'clock. Mr. Boyd and Mr. Thomas taking their horses up by trailer. Mrs. Deardorff's coal black horse, "Reina," was to be ridden by the owner's brother, Mr. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde M. Deardorff of South McClay street, and Mrs. John Gould, Gene Thomas, George Boyd, and Mr. and Mrs. Otto McClure left for Santa Barbara Wednesday for the Fiesta opening there today and the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde M. Deardorff of South McClay street have had as house guests for a week Capt. and Mrs. R. L. Bates and daughter, Zelpa and Modene, of Roswell, N. M., who have also been visiting Capt. Bates' cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Thomas, 914 South Main street.

While the guests were here, Mr. and Mrs. Deardorff gave a complimentary dinner in their garden, serving a steak menu on a long table spread with red and white linens and pottery and centered with a long basket of zinnias.

Forty guests from all parts of the county were present, enjoying the dinner and a visit with the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Deardorff were assisted in serving by the latter's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Thomas.

Following an enjoyable session of games, the hostess served a two-course supper on individual trays decorated with nut cups and favors in blue and yellow tones harmonizing with flowers decorating rooms of the home.

Miss Holt this week resigned her position, held for a number of years, as instructor of science at the Anaheim high school. Her former association with the Standard Oil company at Bakersfield.

Guests at the party included Miss Holt, Mr. Holdsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Prior, Mr. and Mrs. Lem Veldt, Miss Velda Barnes and Miss Vesta Newsom, Garden Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barnes, Brea; Miss Elizabeth Brown and Lou Metzke, Banning; and host's mother, Mrs. A. Williamson.

Miss Beulah May of 1002 Maybury street had a distinctive recognition given to her poetry work recently by the Step-ladder magazine in a contest for a poem with the most interesting subject. The money award was divided between Miss May and a Chicago writer, who tied for honors.

Miss May receives many interesting visitors at her studio home, having as her guest this week her niece, Mrs. Clyde Huffman of Eagle Rock. Mrs. Huffman was formerly in the Santa Anita library, and she and Mr. Huffman and their two daughters, Bertha May and Annie Laurie, have just returned from a visit to relatives in Kentucky.

On Friday evening, Miss May will open her home to the Beta Sigma Phi sorority, who will have a garden supper, followed by a meeting in her studio. Burr Shaffer will give an address on "Modern Art," and will exhibit his own work.

Taking their guests to Wilson's cafe on the bay front at Balboa for a luncheon of attractive appointments, Mrs. Parke Roper and Mrs. E. A. Morrow entertained the members of the Wednesday Contract club and one guest yesterday afternoon.

Places were laid for 12 at one long table spread with dainty linens and centered with a bowl of asters.

After the luncheon, the group went to Mrs. Morrow's home, at the western end of the bay front for an afternoon of cards, awarding prizes at the close to Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth, Mrs. Robert Tuthill and Mrs. Philip Hatfield.

A surprise feature of the afternoon was the presentation of a shower of gift handkerchiefs to Mrs. Morrow, who is leaving soon for an extended trip east.

Mrs. J. E. Liebig was invited as a guest to substitute for an absent member; and members present in addition to those who won prizes, were Mesdames A. G. Flagg, A. J. Cruickshank, James Harding, Roy Hall, George Briggs, Charles V. Davis and the two hostesses.

Mary Stoddard

Some Girls Have Talent for Wearing Hearts on Sleeves, Getting Them Bruised

Having "made a fool" of herself over a gay boy friend once, a high school girl wants to do it all over again. He tired of their friendship, broke it off. Because they "went together," she thinks he must have had "some deep feeling" for her. So she wants to give him a second chance to tire of her. Dear Miss Stoddard: I only recently started reading your column, but I feel that you can give me some good advice. I am a 17-year-old high school girl of a rather serious type.

I realize I am young, but cannot a young woman be as capable of loving a young man sincerely and deeply as an older woman? I am very much in love with a gay fellow, who is considerate and a gentleman. We broke up over a month ago. He gave me the "air," not for another girl or because of a quarrel, but just because he was tired of me, I think.

I know he had some deep feeling for me at some time when we were going together. When we broke up I cried and made a fool of myself (as some would say). He, of course, heard I took it badly. Later he has heard that I still love him. Now his attitude of indifference has changed to one of interest again. If I go out with him now will I be what our crowd terms a "sap"? Would it be better for me to refuse a date with him? Just to be with him is enough for me. I love him so much that I want to go with him again, but the crowd I go with tells me that it would not be the right thing to do. I don't know which way to turn, so am asking your advice.

"Should I go with this boy now?"

Sincerely and hopefully,
MISS SEVENTEEN.

If you are "hopefully" waiting for me to say I think it would be all right for you to go with the gay fellow again, you're going to be disappointed.

Let's get down to brass tacks. It is never becoming or wise of a woman, young or old, to wear her heart on her sleeve.

In other words, how would the young man know that you took the break-up badly, or that you love him if you let some of your mutual friends know about it? Don't publish your love affairs, even to your best girl friend.

Some young men enjoy having a nice girl run after them. It tickles their vanity and satisfies their ego.

You don't need to be spiteful when you refuse an invitation from him, but just politely indifferent.

Look about for not only one friend, but several, whom you can go out with when occasion demands. You know you are too young to be thinking of a "steady," at least while you are a school girl.

Concentrate on graduating from school with honors. If you do this you won't have much time left to cry over indifferent boy friends.

Your crowd of friends know the boy; I do not, but this is one time when I would bank on their good judgment.

PHI OMEGA DINES IN STUDIO PATIO

Phi Omega sorority members enjoyed a dinner party before their meeting last night, gathering for an informal hour or two in the patio at El Favorito studio on North Main street.

Miss Jane McBurney presided over a short business meeting, during which plans were made for a party in the near future.

Finding places at the pretty table, which was set with bright pottery, were the Mesdames Ronald Vincent and Lester Boyle, Alice Nelson, Esther Heemstra, Helen Fine, Hazel Oliphant, Jane McBurney, Gertrude Vaughan, Anne Tucker and Jean Uphall.

Miss Furgason will become the bride of Elmer Rittner in a wedding ceremony this Sunday in Tustin.

Married At Wee Kirk Monday

Of interest here was the wedding of Miss Katherine Steele of Pasadena and Daniel W. Stover of Santa Ana, which was solemnized Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Wee Kirk of the Heather in Glendale, the bridegroom being a prominent member of the local schools faculty.

The bride, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Asa George Steele of Pasadena, wore a white satin formal gown with a long veil caught to a little cap, and carried an arm bouquet of white flowers.

She was attended by Miss Dorothy Cooper, as maid of honor, in a blue dress with a bouquet of blue delphinium and pink sweet peas, and by four bridesmaids: Mrs. Earl Royer, sister of the groom; Miss Altonetta Wass, Mrs. Harvey Brubaker, and Miss June Walker, in pink dresses with similar bouquets.

Albert Guazy was the best man, and Earl Royer, Elvin White, Harvey Brubaker, and Marvin Bollinger were the ushers. The two latter and the best man were fellow members of Mr. Stover in the Apollo Four male quartet.

Marvin Bollinger of Pomona was the soloist who gave several numbers before the service started.

Departing on a honeymoon to Texas and eastern points, the bride and groom will return here in September to make their home at 417 West Walnut street. Mr. Stover, who is the son of Mrs. W. B. Stover of that address, teaches music in the Julia Lathrop Junior High school here, and is a member of the Covina Y's Men's club and of Santa Ana Rotary club. He is a graduate of LaVerne college.

The bride attended LaVerne college last year and Pasadena college this summer. She is a member of a girls' trio in her home city, and was prominent in activities on the college campus.

VISITOR HERE FROM NATION'S CAPITAL

Washington, D. C., is the home of Miss Josephine Stevens who is the house guest this week of her former school friend, Mrs. Albert Harvey.

Miss Stevens arrived yesterday for a week's visit with Mrs. Harvey, who attended Mount Holyoke college with her in the east, and who made several delightful plans for her guest during her stay.

The visitor is being included in a number of informal affairs during the week, and on Saturday night will be one of the guests at an informal evening and steak bake out at Orange county park. Participating in this event will be Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Stauffer, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ranney, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDaniels, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey and Miss Stevens.

CONCLAVE PLANS SLATED TONIGHT

Final plans for sending a large delegation to state convention of the American Legion and auxiliary in Hollywood next week will be made tonight at a meeting of the Santa Ana's women's unit of Post 131 at 7:30 o'clock in Veterans hall.

Members of the auxiliary's sextet will sing, accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong

Take Proper Care Of The Feet

By C. N. CHRISMAN, M. D.

I am still looking for a beauty kit, made up especially for the feet. Most people these days are considerate of their complexions and even more take care of their hands. But those whose feet hurt seem to be only looking for a place to sit down.

Foot bathing should be a rite and is cleansing, soothing and invigorating. Nothing helps us sleep well after a hard day as much as proper foot care. They need relaxation; the circulation must be restored, and the skin relieved of irritation.

The feet need good soap even more than the face because the skin must bear more punishment. They need the softest, freshest towels for drying. When the feet burn and feel soggy, add borax or salicylic acid to the bath water. Have a deep basin so that the feet may be immersed until the sense of tension has been overcome. When they are absolutely clean use a good cream to rub gently over the foot surface. This restores the natural oils and the rubbing is good for the circulation.

When the oil is absorbed, follow with a fragrant, nipping "freshener." If you don't feel younger afterwards, you never ran barefoot through a field of clover when you were a child.

In stubborn cases of ache and strain, you can stimulate the circulation by alternating hot and cold water in the foot bath. A minute in cold and another in hot water, making the one colder and the other hotter by degrees as you grow accustomed to the temperature is the way to do it.

Finish dressing the feet by dusting lightly with a good powder before putting on the shoes. It isn't wise for me to advise going without heels, even in one's own room, unless I know the build and weight of the person concerned. Going barefoot is fine for some folks while sneakers may prove very restful to others.

Still another group needs support under the heel to keep the foot arches in proper balance. Much precaution should be taken by pregnant women on account of increasing weight, and by all who have suffered from infectious diseases like rheumatism or scarlet fever. These troubles deplete the character of the bone supply and make the foot structure less resistant.

Many forms of exercise are good to keep the feet in proper health. Walking, skating, dancing are all good if not overdone. Where leisure is limited, just working the foot joints in the hands is far better than nothing.

Any persistent pain in the feet should be given attention. We didn't worry much over a blistered heel years ago, but we know now that infection, even if not severe, may result in an enlarged bone. A very thin rubber pad under the heel may relieve pain. If the bone growth becomes a real spur, it should be removed. Standing means even more strain on the feet than walking and with less opportunity for adjustment.

How to Set Permanent Wave

By JACQUELINE HUNT

How to make your fingernails and neatly turned ringlets end last for a week is a problem that confronts all of you in the summer-time.

If you want to be well-groomed every minute, however, you will have to learn to set your waves and curls yourself. Invest in a hair net to wear over your neatly arranged waves at night and a light, waterproof cap for your daily shower. In addition, get a nice perfumed lotion or a very thin waxeset lotion that you can spray on with an atomizer.

Part your hair where you want it, brush and comb free from tangles. Apply the lotion. Now push upward to see where the waves naturally fall. Now insert your waving combs, teeth pointing upward toward the part of your hair. If you part your hair on the side, then do not make the first wave too far toward the top of your head. Place the first comb well back, then comb the hair forward to make a good wave and insert the second comb.

Comb the hair back and insert a comb, continuing until you have the waves where you want them. Placing the waves in the back is more difficult, but you can do it. If you want a swirl in the back, break some of your combs in half and use the short pieces, inserted on a slant around the crown of your head.

Now, the ends. The back is managed with small curlers. There are small metal ones that give the curl just the right shape and there are some new rubber curlers that give soft, loose, more natural-looking curls.

Work with a small amount of hair at a time. If you wear waves rather low across the back of your head, then one or two rows of curls at the neckline are enough.

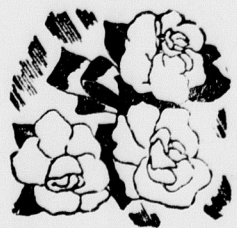

If your hair is medium in length and you wear curls all the way to the crown of your head, then the easiest way to curl the hair is to make a part about one and one-half inches above the neckline in the back. Pin the other hair out of the way and make a row of small curls right at the neckline. These finished, part the hair again one and one-half inches further up and make a second row of curls across the back of your head. Repeat, parting and making rows of curls until all of the hair is used.

When your hair is thoroughly dry, comb out the waves carefully, combing each one just to its crest. After combing between the waves, pinch the ridges in place between

THORN in the FLESH

By GLENN L. THORNE

"This little pig went to market" may soon mean more than a game for Junior to play with his toes. Washington reports an increase of 29 per cent in the spring pig crop of 1936.

Which is good news, even though we'll still be 20 per cent below the average raised before we started our birth control for pigs.

Punny how that law of supply and demand works: It is claimed that hog raisers got 15 per cent more for their 51 per cent of hogs, though the price of pork jumped 100 per cent. (No, Hortense, the law of supply and demand is an economic, not a New Deal, law.)

Senator Borah is authority for the figure that during the first four months of this year we imported 10,500,000 pounds of pork, in addition to many millions of pounds of other farm products.

Looks like our farmers somewhere really got farm relief—relief from hard work carrying swill to pigs, or raising produce and hauling it to market.

KIWANIAN AND FAMILIES DINE AT PARK

An anticipated yearly event in Santa Ana Kiwanian circles is the annual picnic, for which more than 200 club members and their families gathered yesterday afternoon and evening out at Irvine park.

This year's dinner had a Southern menu, especially enjoyable in the outdoor setting at the big, central picnic grounds.

Two teams of Kiwanians were pitted against each other for an exciting baseball game in the late afternoon, and after dinner R. C. Raddant, entertainment chairman, presented a program of stunts and contests in the pavilion. Prizes added to the fun for both adults and young people.

The evening concluded with dancing for some and with a theater party at Walker's theater in Santa Ana for others, this latter being also an annual affair of the club.

Frank Pierce presided as master of ceremonies for the program in the pavilion before the dancing, which opened with community singing.

An imitation of Major Bowes' amateur hour followed, with Loren Moore acting as Major Blows and with Carter Lane, Jerry Hall, Art Cannon, W. W. Woods, Harry Westover, W. B. Martin, E. Stefansson, Dr. Cassius Paul, Dr. K. H. Sutherland, A. C. Hasenjaeger and Thomas Carl Sutton among those participating.

Members and ladies participated in a paper bag stunt, and new members in a milk drinking contest with Dale Bell coming out as winner.

A balloon contest for the children, and a kiddie car polo game and a spooning contest for the adults brought the program to a grand finale. Among those participating in the polo game were Rolla Hays, sr., Dr. C. V. Doty, George Wells, Dr. Milo K. Tedstrom, Dr. F. E. Earel, Dr. K. H. Sutherland, and spooning contestants were Dr. Emmett Raitt, Dr. McVicar Smith, F. Crowell, Mrs. Charles Walker, Mrs. A. N. Zerman, and Mrs. Rolla Hays.

MUSICAL, TEA, REVIEW HELD

Featured by a musical program in the afternoon and a review of "Modern Painting" in the evening, a benefit art exhibit and tea was held yesterday at the Unitarian church, to increase the Laguna Art association gallery fund.

Mrs. E. Louis Beeman opened the afternoon program with her reading of "To a Daguerreotype," by William Vaughn Moody. Miss Anne Wetherell and Bruce Buell, Visel studio pupils, sang.

Miss Wetherell, who was accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. H. G. Wetherell, sang "Obstination" and "Tess Yeux." Mrs. Buell accompanied her son, who sang "Slow, Slow, Slow" and "Mountain Song."

Violin and piano duets were played by Marjorie Keller and David Craighead, and by Mary Toyoda and Elizabeth Lehnhardt. Tea was served in the Japanese

Mr. and Mrs. Otto F. Becker and Jean Anne and Donald, of Tustin, have returned from a two-week trip up to Portland, going up the coast route and returning the inland way. They stopped for a visit with relatives in the course of the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Penn, Dr. W. L. Jollibette and Mrs. Jollibette enjoyed a recent trip to Yosemite.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Jerome will have as their house guest next week their daughter, Mrs. Joseph Clark, of Bell.

Mrs. Ashby Turner spent the week-end here at the home of Mrs. E. B. Collier, 117 East Washington street, before leaving for a visit to New Mexico. For several weeks, Mrs. Turner has been visiting friends in and about Los Angeles. While in Santa Ana Mrs. Turner spent most of her time with Mr. Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Carroll, Lincoln, Neb., have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stewart, 3465 Riverside drive, for a few days. Carroll is special agent for the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, with headquarters at Lincoln, Neb. The Carrolls have been in the Southland for a few weeks on vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Jordan, 202 South Sycamore street, are among the more recent Santa Ana residents. Jordan is the resident manager of Luzier's Inc., beauty service specialists.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Henk and daughters, Erva and Vera, who have been in the city for two weeks visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Martin, 115 East Chestnut, will leave tomorrow morning for their home in Columbus, Wis. They return via Bakersfield, where they will make a brief stop.

Mr. and Mrs. Milan Miller, 1509 North Main, returned yesterday from a 10 days fishing trip in Inyo county.

The Brea Woman's clubhouse will be the meeting place of the board of directors of the Crippled Children's Relief association of Orange County, Inc., at noon Aug. 14, Miss Kate E. Rea, president, announced.

Members of the American Legion auxiliary mothers club will meet in Veterans hall tomorrow for a special quilting session.

Dr. C. I. Trimbel and Mrs. Trimbel, who have been guests of Mrs. M. C. Williams, 719 Orange avenue, for the past two weeks, left Tuesday for their home in Tulsa, Okla. They were accompanied by Mrs. Williams' grandson, Harvey Riggie, who will visit them until Sept. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Carney and their daughter, Isabel, left this morning for Cleveland, Ohio. They came to Tustin several months ago to be with Ray Carney during his last illness.

Miss Connie LaBach arrived from Long Island, N. Y., to visit the E. R. Byrnes, Tustin. Tonight the trio plans to attend the Hollywood bowl musical presentation.

Donald Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Watson, Yorba street, Tustin, is competing in the Newport regatta. He has won several silver cups in various events of previous contests.

Mr. and Mrs. John Knox of lantern-decked church garden by Mrs. Phillip Hood, Paul Velez and Lawrence Nolan.

In addition to oil paintings by Laguna artists, rare art books and plates from the Santa Ana public library were displayed in the afternoon and evening.

At 8 o'clock, Mrs. Edith Cloyes, a member of the federal forum committee, reviewed Mather's volume on modern painting. William Beeman played several piano selections.

Members of the sponsoring committee were Mrs. N. E. West, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Hood, Carl Blaylock, I. Maron, Paul Velez, the Rev. Julia N. Budlong and Mrs. Matt Ferris.

NEBRASKA GUEST HONORED AT PARK DINNER

Irvine park was the setting last evening for a dinner party honoring Miss Esther Lathrop of Holbrook, Neb., niece of Mrs. Rose B. Morgan of 714 East Third street, who is a visitor in the city this summer.

Guests included Mrs. Morgan and Miss Lathrop's cousins, Mrs. Gertrude E. Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. Norman W. Morgan and Billy M. Wilcox, and also Vernon M. Lee and Miss Dorothy Edwards.

MORE AID FOR 'SELF-HELPS'

SACRAMENTO (AP).—More instead of less financial aid will be given self-help cooperatives, H. J. Pomeroy, new relief administrator, said yesterday and his assertion was supported by a similar declaration by Governor Merriam.

Economies which are being effected in relief administrative costs, achieved largely through the discontinuance of several high salaried jobs, are in line with his promise made to the supervisors association of the state, the governor said. They will in no way hamper the necessary work of the relief commission, he asserted.

The resignations of four of the top salaried employees were announced at the San Francisco meeting of the commission.

"It simply means," said the governor, "that all necessary departments will be carried on under competent help but that there was no longer work to be done which required the services of so many executives."

The money which had been going into salaries, he said, will be used to buy food and clothing for the needy.

MRS. INSLEY IS LAID TO REST

Funeral services were conducted Monday at Huntington Beach for Mrs. Martha Ann Elzora Palmer Insley, pioneer Santa Ana valley resident, who died at her home there July 31.

Mrs. Insley was born in Indiana in 1845, and settled with her husband and three children in Santa Ana in 1884. They resided here for several years, later living in Westminster, Fullerton and Los Angeles. After her husband's death, in 1908, Mrs. Insley moved to Huntington Beach.

Funeral services were held at the home of W. N. Gulick, W. N. Huntley and Ronald Pollard, Tustin; Q. A. Gulick, Fullerton; Frank Brown, Huntington Park, and Nelson Page, Riverside. Interment was in Westminster Memorial park.

Jellied Dish Is Popular

By JUDITH WILSON

Lamb Ring

Mix 1 package prepared aspic with 2 cups boiling water and stir until dissolved. Cool slightly and pour a very small amount on the bottom of a ring mold. Arrange a row of sliced stuffed olives in the bottom. Chill until set. In the meantime mix 3¼ cups chopped cooked lamb, 3 tablespoons chopped onion, ½ teaspoon salt and ½ cup chopped olives with the remaining aspic. Pour into the ring mold. Chill until firm, then turn out on a large platter and garnish with watercress.

Cherry Pie

Bake a pie shell and have it very cold. Make up 1 package cherry flavored gelatin, adding 2 tablespoons sugar before dissolving in 1¼ cups hot water. Add 1½ cups pitted sweet cherries and cool, stirring occasionally. When the mixture thickens but is not set, turn into the pie shell and chill until the filling is set. Serve with a topping of whipped cream, sweetened and flavored to taste.

Peach Mousse

Scald 1 cup evaporated milk in the top of a double boiler and while hot add ½ teaspoon gelatin that has been softened in 1 tablespoon water. Stir until dissolved. Chill in a freezing tray until nearly firm then whip in a chilled bowl until very light, glossy and smooth. Combine with 2 cups peach pulp that has been sweetened with ½ cup powdered sugar and ¼ cup white corn syrup. Add ½ teaspoon almond flavoring. Return to refrigerator and continue freezing until firm. This will serve eight.

Townsend Clubs

Townsend clubs No. 7 and 9 will meet in joint session at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow in the Orange Avenue Christian church, McFadden street and Orange avenue. Club No. 1 has been invited to attend the meeting, called to organize precinct workers for the coming campaign. Walter R. Robb will speak on "What are we fighting for? And how shall we fight?"

BLAZE ON FREIGHTER

SAN PEDRO, (AP) — Firemen fought a blaze for nearly three hours today in the forepeak of the American Hawaiian freighter Alaskan before bringing it under control. Damage, however, was estimated at approximately $500.

Education and Democracy

SOME real intellectual exercise is ahead for those Orange county residents who attend the new federal forum lectures this fall. A glance over the list of topics for discussion under leadership of capable speakers reveals that some of the most important questions of the times will be dissected.

Here is a taste of the topics which may be offered, subject to the decision of local advisory committees: "How Can America Best Keep Out of War?" "The Future of the Pacific." "Government by Bureaucracy." "Is Dictatorship Possible in America?" "Do We Need National Regulation of Divorce?" "When Government Pays the Doctor's Bills." "Does Youth Want Old Age Security?" "Should Racial Minorities Have Equality?" And dozens more.

Uncle Sam is spending $20,000 to start this forum in Orange county as a combined educational experiment and relief project. This is a lot of money. It will be wasted, to a great extent, unless people take advantage of the chance to learn more about the problems of society and the ways of solving them. Democracy will advance and develop only as the average level of knowledge and intelligence rises.

When arguing with a man larger than you, always count 10 before letting anger get the best of you. In fact, it is even a good idea to stutter while counting.

Greece Goes Fascist

AGAIN Europe demonstrates that the popular antidote for Communism or fear of Communism is the adoption of Fascism. The demonstration this time takes place in Greece, where Premier "Strong Man" John Metaxas has dissolved the chamber of deputies, established martial law, set up censorship and taken full control of all civil affairs. His excuse is that Reds were promoting a general strike.

Thus the complexion of European government moves rapidly from republics and monarchies toward the dictatorship pattern. And the unfortunate millions who inhabit that teeming continent surrender more and more of their liberty of speech and action to powerful leaders who rule by bayonet, propaganda and brutality.

The plight of the masses in Greece, Italy, Germany, Russia, Austria and Spain should serve as a warning to free Americans that individual political and economic liberty must be preserved against exploitation by hypnotic politicians as well as by grasping monied interests.

Zioncheck says he will run for congress again to prove he is "neither crazy nor insane." If he wins, we will know who is.

Public Well Satisfied

SUPT. FRANK HENDERSON and the five members of the city school board should feel highly complimented at the confidence which the public shows in them. The officials met this week for the purpose of hearing complaints on the $850,930 budget for 1936-37, and not a single protest was presented.

The board of five trustees—Chairman George Wells, M. B. Youel, Rolla Hays, sr., Dr. Margaret Baker and Ridley Smith—serving without pay, are responsible for far more property and the expenditure of much more money than the city council. Almost every man, woman and child of the community is concerned with what the board decides. The fact that no protest was made against the budget indicates that the public is well satisfied with the work of Santa Ana school officials.

Day-dreamers will pick some other place than Spain to build their castles after this.

Long-Term Road Planning

LONG-TERM planning of road building in California as a substitute for political pressure from local boosters is the objective of the state department of public works as it launches a state-wide survey to be financed by a $228,000 federal grant.

An ambitious program has been laid out that includes a determination of what roads should be improved within the next 20 years and what the order of priority should be. Traffic surveys and truck and bus surveys will be included in the studies. And a tentative long-term budget will be drawn up.

Politicians will regard this as Utopian. And no one will expect that the program as finally submitted will be followed 100 per cent. California changes too fast, and so do automobiles and the science of road-building. But a long-term plan may save many mistakes and extravagances and serve as a check to political pressure groups.

At any rate, Father Coughlin bets and cusses like an old-fashioned southern gentleman.

Tax on Divorce

PERHAPS we can put a halter on the divorce evil by adopting the new Russian system. It used to be in Soviet Russia that divorce was encouraged—and the result was an unparalleled number of broken homes.

But now the Soviet has seen the error of its ways and has loaded a tax on those who want a legal separation from their marriage partners. As a result, according to a Moscow item, "divorces have fallen off 90 per cent."

A tax on divorce probably wouldn't stop disgraceful scandals like the Thorpe-Astor case, but it might put a stop to the divorce racket as worked in Reno and other places where state laws encourage easy marriage and separation.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Arthur McKeogh, the magazine editor, and his talented wife, Elsie, the literary agent, decided several seasons ago they wanted a small summer home on the water near New York—almost an impossibility. But they began to annoy the real estate people just the same.

So much so, one in sudden pique exclaimed: "What you want is a house-boat." And miffing the sarcasm the McKeoghs almost fell into each other's arms, their eyes lit with the light of glory. That was exactly what they wanted. To be razored away from things, the telephone, the car, etc. It was answer to a prayer.

They became in this fashion the first of the celebrity house-boaters. They are moored this season in their double-decker off Milton Point, near Rye. But, of course, gypsy fashion they may drift and anchor where they please. Fresh water is the biggest item, $10 a tank.

On the main deck is a 20-by-20-foot living room, with a gallery, washroom, etc. On the second deck, three bedrooms, bath, lounge and sun deck. They have named the galleon "Sea Horse" and reach it in a motorboat called The Side Car. They bought it for $900 and can sell it any time for $5000.

The zippiest of the current Broadway fun lovers seem to be George Marshall, the Washington, D. C. laundryman who has given zest to so many parties with his spontaneities. He is a country boy, born near Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., four miles from Gallipolis, Ohio, by the way—and started off as a rep show trouper with Monte Bell, the movie director, lone one of his cronies. At his majority he inherited a broken-down laundry, and, surprising everybody, including himself, turned it into a lapping success. But his real frolic is He addresses the dazzling tungstons, cheerio and back-slapping camaraderie. El Morocco can scarcely close without him. A booming type, he enters a place with the modern version of a Comanche whoop. But his real impression that from now on joy must be unconfined, and it usually is. His most recent diversion was eloping with Corinne Griffith.

Another auspicious in-and-out among the down hallers is A. C. Blumthal, the peace promotion poobah from San Francisco, who salvaged a bankrupt out of movie theater building, "Blumie," a temperate fellow, lets himself go for several months at a stretch and will be host for an entire front row at the first nights and a half dozen tables after that at the reigning night spot. One month a study in kinematics, he goes out like a light, had nobody will see or hear of him for several months. Then "Blumie" is in full bloom again!

Fashionable New Yorkers summering at villas in Westchester and on Long Island have two nights in town. The smart schedule includes Tuesday and Wednesday. Thus do stylists concoct designs for "tropical Manhattan" to tease the two-day-a-weekers. There are gowns suitable for the lighting effects of the Persian room at the Plaza, the Viennese Roof at the St. Regis, etc. Mrs. Lorraine McDoom Shevlin, who seems to have outdistanced Mrs. Harrison Williams in the Best Dressed Lady Sweepstakes, recently appeared in a tailored black net suit. Another summery picture was Gloria Baker in a white organdy minaret dress. Incidentally pink is the reigning summer color, because it blends so neatly with sun tan.

The newest pavement pests—now that publicity has flushed the pseudo truckman fur salesman out of darkened hallways—are the roaming photographers. They work in pairs, catching the unwary pedestrian on the fly. One presents a numbered card to be reclaimed at a studio. The other does the lens-sapping, taking a 50-cent deposit, the beginning the stunt was on the level, now it is 99 per cent gyp.

Thingumabobs: Prince Andrew of Greece goes surfing bathing wearing his monocle. . . . Achmed Abdullah is a fancy weskif fiend. . . . Clay Morgan was once the villain with a theatrical troupe. In the hobo jungles Jim Tully is known as "Ohio Red." . . . Dorothy Thompson's dictation is regarded as the best on the air.

Attracted by a purple and slate gray striped tie in one of those Flippy Broadway haberdashers, I went in for a peek. One of the sleek high pressure boys tried to sell me everything in the place, and when I backed away without purchase he called: "Maybe you would be interested in a pair of white socks." I was a half block away before my dander rized.

SCIENCE NEWS
We have heard of the "tattoo" mark for poultry, used where poultry growers have trouble with thieves. Now we have the "brand" given green fruit. Tried out by avocado growers, it has worked successfully. A small device, with raised letters, is worn on the thumb. An impression is made on the green fruit. The scars remain on the ripened avocado. Proof against thieves.

SECRETARY OF STATE HULL was playing croquet, his favorite sport, late the other Sunday afternoon, and was interrupted three times by transatlantic telephone calls from Spain.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON. — When vivacious John Hamilton came to Washington just after being made chairman of the Republican national committee, he outlined to sagacious Senator McNary of Oregon an elaborate campaign in which he, personally, would speak in every state in the union.

McNary listened carefully, finally said: "But don't forget, John, you're not the candidate."

Now, according to Republican leaders returning from Topeka, this advice has been taken up by the Landon "kitchen cabinet."

Landon's kitchen cabinet consists of Roy Roberts, managing editor of The Kansas City Star; Oscar Stauffer, college classmate and Kansas newspaper owner; Federal Judge George T. McDermott; and Lacey Haynes, Kansas correspondent of The Kansas City Star.

According to returning GOP chiefs, these intimate advisers held a council of war the day after the acceptance speech. Hamilton was present.

During this meeting Hamilton was informed, in a tactful but firm manner, that he was doing too much orating, and that it was the unanimous opinion of the group he could be more effective by concentrating on organization.

Hamilton readily accepted this advice, agreed to do less stump spilling.

UNSWELLED HEAD
Newspapermen who have visited Al Landon both before his nomination and after, report that his selection as Republican presidential standard-bearer has not necessitated a change in the size of his hat.

WAR CLOUDS
Not for a good many months have U. S. foreign experts been so worried about the situation in Europe. Some of the confidential cables American ambassadors are sending back indicate that Europe is skirting very near the brink of war.

Even before the crash of the Italian plane bearing arms to the Spanish Nazi-militarists, there was direct evidence that Germany had been supplying the rebels with airplanes and munitions.

France, on the opposite side, had been supplying airplanes to the Spanish popular front government, despite an official decision to the contrary.

Thus the two bitterest enemies in Europe—France and Germany—appear to be waging indirect war on each other on Spanish soil, with Italy siding with Nazi Germany.

Both Hitler and Mussolini are determined not to have two popular front governments—France and Spain—as their immediate neighbors. And they appear willing to go to almost any length, even war, to prevent it.

What Other Editors Say

DIVIDE CALIFORNIA
(Manchester Body in L. A. Daily)

I do not favor the recall of Governor Frank F. Merriam. Here is why:

The governmental structure of California is old, inefficient, outmoded. It is no more capable of serving the people of California than is a covered wagon capable of handling modern transportation requirements.

Worse still, the "covered wagon" that is our state government is loaded to suffocation with bureaucrats, office-holders, sales agents of private corporations, tricksters and spenders. Every mother's son of 'em has cemented the seat of his pants to the floor of the wagon with a constitutional amendment. They can't be ousted!

We find some poor old horse foolish enough to want to be governor and hitch him to the wagon. We stick a gaudy plume in his mane, cover him with plush and velvet harness, pin medals on his tail, then crack the whip. Of course he can't pull the wagon. No horse could. So we lambast him for a while, then resort to recall! I want no part in such idiotic horseplay.

California, as organized under its existing government, faces certain bankruptcy. Nothing can be done to avoid it because any seventh-rate political chiseler can and does play political Northern California against political Southern California, contrary to the real interests of both sections, and there is always the country-versus-city sprag to thrust between the spokes, if by some miracle the economy wheel ever does start rolling.

So long as citizens waste money and energy on futile recall efforts they will never undertake the only campaign that can possibly solve California's problem.

I mean California must be divided into two separate states, each divested of its entrenched bloodsuckers and provided with a modern working form of government. As the situation exists, we shall have duplicated our universities, our capital buildings, all of our bureaus and offices, our penal institutions and our inevitable pork barrels. The "wagon" lies due north and south, and we're pulling at both ends.

Encounter contractor who said he had been working so hard he was looking for relief. When I suggested the WPA he shot me a glance, indicating I had missed the boat. There was only one other relief that I know of—so he went fishing.

Notice where a torch light procession is proposed by one of the political parties. My experience was that the torch should be electrically equipped. I rummaged through my closet and found an old kerosene light in a parade. The irony of the incident was that I couldn't even vote.

I'm getting all mixed up on my party politics. One time I found my candidate on a regular ticket and the next time on an irregular ticket. Sometimes when he's on both I don't know which to vote, or whether I've voted for a Democrat or a Republican, or either.

There is an established principle of the British policy, it is indeed the basic canon of British life, that wherever and whenever our security is endangered it is our bounden duty to make such preparations as will remove the danger.—Sir Samuel Hoare.

BRIGADE MOMENTS
General Zachary Taylor, who commanded the American forces in the war with Mexico in the latter part of the nineteenth century, had sent out scouts to reconnoiter. They returned, reporting a great body of Mexicans on the march, headed for the American army camp. Taylor called a council of war. When a unanimous opinion had been given against fighting, Taylor replied: "Very well, I dismiss this council until after the battle."

In transit: Mel Trickey seeking impartial opinion for the benefit of a client. . . . Jim Sleeper equipped for a fishing trip. . . . Bill Nielsen in a new role as city motorcycle officer, and here's hoping he don't roll. . . . C. M. McCain seeking the shady side of the street. . . . Ben Tarver giving his opinion of a controversy between two citizens. . . . And then we still have the elevator operators who are in transit most of the time.

Skinny Skribbles

Around and About Town
With C. F. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

Orlo Moncrief has been in Iowa. He told me so. He thought I would be interested to hear about the old state. The corn fields look like some one had gone through them and cut off everything, leaving the stalk standing straight and barren—like so many sticks in the ground. Now you can't get any corn off that kind of a corn stalk, so compositors might just as well get busy and write a new song. Or they could use the old one and end it, at least this year with: "That's where the tall corn don't grow." But I'll find out more about it next Saturday when I go to the Long Beach Iowa picnic. The folk back home will have reported by that time and something authentic will be available.

Ed Gregory comes down town and forgets to bring the watch along with him. The railroads that I used to know always insisted that you had to have a watch if you did not have anything else.

After looking at Joe Smith's forehead I'm not at all convinced that I want to enter politics, and I don't mean there is anything wrong with Joe's head—at least the inside of it. But something happened to the left side, if you are to believe what the adhesive tape intimates. Joe is a senatorial candidate from Orange county, but that shouldn't call for violence. No secret service man has slipped me the reason for the appearance of the good natured counsellor, but a door could get in his way. I know I am certain—when Joe tells me the story he'll stick to it.

Encounter contractor who said he had been working so hard he was looking for relief. When I suggested the WPA he shot me a glance, indicating I had missed the boat. There was only one other relief that I know of—so he went fishing.

Notice where a torch light procession is proposed by one of the political parties. My experience was that the torch should be electrically equipped. I rummaged through my closet and found an old kerosene light in a parade. The irony of the incident was that I couldn't even vote.

I'm getting all mixed up on my party politics. One time I found my candidate on a regular ticket and the next time on an irregular ticket. Sometimes when he's on both I don't know which to vote, or whether I've voted for a Democrat or a Republican, or either.

There is an established principle of the British policy, it is indeed the basic canon of British life, that wherever and whenever our security is endangered it is our bounden duty to make such preparations as will remove the danger.—Sir Samuel Hoare.

BRIGADE MOMENTS
General Zachary Taylor, who commanded the American forces in the war with Mexico in the latter part of the nineteenth century, had sent out scouts to reconnoiter. They returned, reporting a great body of Mexicans on the march, headed for the American army camp. Taylor called a council of war. When a unanimous opinion had been given against fighting, Taylor replied: "Very well, I dismiss this council until after the battle."

In transit: Mel Trickey seeking impartial opinion for the benefit of a client. . . . Jim Sleeper equipped for a fishing trip. . . . Bill Nielsen in a new role as city motorcycle officer, and here's hoping he don't roll. . . . C. M. McCain seeking the shady side of the street. . . . Patrolman's whistle sends pedestrians back for violating signals. . . . Fem friend in a new location as waitress—not a blonde. . . . Ernest Webb in shirt sleeves ready for business. . . . E. C. McKilliam adjourning for a noon lunch. . . . The Cafeteria Kellys getting ready for a sky trip to Bishop. . . . Fred Barnore "at home" in the Arcade. . . . "Doc" Huston in for the political touch with his constituents. . . . Jimmy Utt back from a conference with Los Angeles state politicians, and others. . . . L. B. Harrison getting the candy ready for the baby and other customers. . . . Old Brooks location being prepared for loan and luggage shop. . . . Tom McKadden in for some acquaintance advertising. . . . Gene Kahan from Los Angeles calling on Santa Ana friends. . . . Bob Schilling becoming accustomed to the new location. . . . Frank West telling a story about ant paste. . . . And another one by Floyd Gordon. . . . Joe Daniger being introduced as a new member of a service club. . . . Orville Lyon enjoying a rest period. . . . Mountain customer taking "Barn Dance" treatment. . . . Milan Miller home from the fishing trip. Some more just starting. . . . Alan Beisel giving the photography display the once over, in the absence of McIntyre. . . . Jim Tucker detaining friend for a little political gossip. . . . Ben Tarver giving his opinion of a controversy between two citizens. . . . And then we still have the elevator operators who are in transit most of the time.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

AUGUST 6, 1911

Mr. Handy of Orange reported to the sheriff's office today that a buggy robe had been stolen from his buggy while it was hitched at one of the hitching racks in this city at some time last night.

The following young ladies were members of a house party which left for Newport yesterday to spend a week: Misses Eleanor Ritter, Mary Wilkes, Kassa Bailey, Florence Crosier, Grace Hogsett, Marian Bristol and Helen Anderson.

Roy McKee of Garden Grove notified the sheriff's office over the telephone line this morning that the premises of a Japanese nearby had been raided last night and a quantity of clothing stolen. Deputy Sheriff Sam Jernigan left for Garden Grove this morning on a trip for investigation purposes, but said he failed to find a clue which might possibly lead to the detection of the culprit.

M. M. Crookshank, J. C. Thomas and Rev. Charles Seecombe left Santa Ana this morning for a three-week trip into the mountains in the region of Tehama county. Later this month they will be joined by Judge West, R. T. Har- ryson Steel Company, and is a specialist in taking over semi-bankrupt companies and putting them on their feet.

When he took it over, PWA housing division was almost in that category. It is now assuming new life.

MERRY-GO-ROUND
Women of the National Capital Republican club have turned down a horseback picture of Landon as a clubhouse decoration, because it shows a broad grin on the face of the candidate. Reason given is, "We have had enough of smiles."

Serving on the newly-named great plains drought committee is Albert L. Walthein of the Indian bureau, who says he once had a 400-acre ranch in western Kansas which is now "over in the next county" as a result of dust storms. . . . The home which the New Deal converted into an office for Rural Electrification administration is generally known as the Elaine mansion. Recall that it was originally built by electricity's George Westinghouse. . . . Latest check shows that Washington leads the list of the world's cities in the number of telephones per capita. New York rates fifteenth, surpassed by such cities as Munich, Oslo, and Copenhagen. Washington has 35 per population. New York 21. . . . U. S. Naval officers lately assigned to the naval mission to Brazil are frantically cramming on Portuguese.

Old index of returning prosperity is the patent office, which is receiving applications for patents at a faster pace than at any time since 1929.

Public charity has been reduced to an efficiency basis. It has been centralized, mechanized, standardized. We turn away from the personal plea of the wayfaring man at the door. We direct him to some charity center, where hired employees will dole out goods to
